Near-Zero Forecast In Winter's Worst Blast

Mercury Falling Rapidly

Man Injured As Car Crashes

Zero weather, which has been spending the winter in the West, threatened to move into the Mansfield area today.

More than an inch of snow fell on the city last night and today, and the mercury fell steadily throughout the morning, reaching 17 above at noon.

The forecast said colder weather is due tonight, with the mercury probably falling near zero. Snow flurries will end tonight, and Sunday will be clear and cold, the weatherman predicted.

The snow glazed streets and highways, resulting in at least 10 traffic accidents in the city and county. One person was injured.

A freak accident on State Route 61, one mile south of Crestline resulted in head injuries to Robert Rettig, of Galion.

The highway patrol said Rettig's car spun around and slid off the road backwards into a tree. The force of the impact threw Rettig backwards through the front seat, breaking the seat and into the rear window.

HEAD BREAKS WINDOW

His head broke the window which resulted in lacerations about the face.

Road maintenance crews went into action shortly after the snow began to fall yesterday. One city crew went to work at 9:30 p. m., two more at midnight, and an additional four at 7:30 a. m. today.

Twelve state highway department teams started spreading salt at 2 a. m., and the county put two crews into action this morning.

At Cincinnati the Ohio river climbed to 52.4 feet, four-tenths of an inch above flood stage today, but the weatherman said the falling temperatures and end of the rain eased threats of extensive flood damage as the cold stopped the run-off.

At least 44 roads all over the state were closed due to high water. In the Mansfield area, State Route 95, between Mohicanville and the Wayne county line in Ashland county and State Route 76 at the Holmes county line were blocked.

Meanwhile, sub-zero weather settled today over blizzard-swept, starving western livestock and despite a new snow threat the U. S. Air Force planned to send its planes aloft in its "Operation feedlift."

The mercury plunged as low as 24 degrees below zero at Butte, Mont., as Arctic blasts whistled across the Rocky Mountain and plains states. The belt of frigid temperatures spread over Colorado into Nebraska.

SKIES CLEARING

The latest snowfall was predicted for the western sections of Kansas and Nebraska. But the skies began to clear over the mountain areas following a blizzard which left as much as 12 more inches of snow on the ground.

The Air Force manned its C-47 cargo planes and its C-82 "flying cargo" ships at bases from Kearney, Neb., to Ely, Nev., to resume "bombing" the snow-bound cattle, sheep and elk with hay and feed concentrates.

Taft Looses Blast At CIO

NILES—(AP)—Senator Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio) said last night that the limitation of individual liberty is the number one problem in the United States as well as the rest of the world.

In a major address before 900 persons at a memorial meeting to the late President William McKinley, Taft asserted:

"The American people believe in liberty, but the totalitarian creed which we face abroad dominates the philosophy of the CIO, and therefore of the democratic party, and if it prevails, it must ultimately destroy that liberty."

Robber Mad, But So Were Customers

NEW YORK —(INS)— A self-proclaimed tough and angry bandit was near death today after his intended victims—tougher and angrier—joined to beat him up.

The bandit walked into a Long Island bar last night, flourished a .22 caliber revolver and announced.

"This is a stickup and I'm mad."

But some 30 patrons of the bar were even madder. At the prison ward of Kings county hospital, in Brooklyn, authorities announced the bandit is "dying."

Reds Mass Siege Guns At Nanking

Give Chinese Final Warning

NANKING —(AP)— Communist gunners planted artillery on the north bank of the Yangtze, east of Nanking, and ominously warned this chaotic capital today: If the government wants to show its sincerity for peace, it will not move.

But it was too late. A careful check failed to locate a single Nationalist government cabinet member in Nanking. All were admittedly gone except a few whose skeletonized offices reported them "out." But their offices refused to say where they had gone.

Hopes for peace within the predictable future faded almost to the vanishing point.

The latest communist demand, that the government remain in Nanking, was telephoned from Red-controlled Peiping by Acting President Li Tsung-Jen's special representative. Commenting on the demand, an informed Chinese source observed:

"Li Tsung-Jen may find some way out, but we Chinese cannot imagine what it will be."

This source added that the demand places Li "in an impossible position and ostensibly means there will be no peace."

The communists artillery emplacements are situated so they can shell river, rail and highway traffic to Shanghai, industrial and commercial center, 150 miles east by south.

With the Reds hardly five miles north of Nanking, and across the Yangtze, this half-abandoned capital all but forgot that today was China's New Year—usually an occasion for celebration.

Nervous Chinese thought the Reds had begun to shell Nanking when some hardy citizens said farewell to the "Year of the Rat" by firing the traditional fireworks.

Son Held In Slaying

ZANESVILLE — (AP) — A 73-year-old widow was found slain in her home at Dresden last night and her son was taken into custody for questioning five hours later.

Neighbors of Mrs. Nellie Farrell found her body, bound hand and foot, about 7 p. m. Alfred Farrell, 43, was seized at a Dennison hotel at 11:50 p. m. by Sheriff Harry Bealmear.

Sheriff Bealmear said neighbors reported Farrell left his mother's house two hours before the body was found.

Farrell insisted he was intoxicated yesterday and could not remember where he was during the day, the sheriff said. The man, who had registered at the Dennison hotel at 7:30 p. m., appeared to be in normal condition, Bealmear added. He had registered under the name of Brice Buell.

Sheriff Bealmear earlier speculated that robbery was the motive for Mrs. Farrell's slaying.

Held In Arson Case

TROY — (UP) — Miami County Sheriff Richard Siefried said today that an arson charge will be filed against Charles M. Motter, 24, of Piqua, in connection with two fires in Piqua in August that caused more than $500,000 damage.

Cites Need For Larger Hospital

Copeland Says Beds All Filled

Mansfield lacks hospital space to provide adequate care for all the persons who need it, the General hospital board of directors was told last night at its annual meeting.

Wayne A. Copeland, General hospital superintendent, told the directors that a few nights ago there wasn't a vacant hospital bed in the city.

A woman patient, brought in for an emergency operation, had to lie on a stretcher for an hour following the operation and then was returned to her home, Copeland said.

"That woman should have been in the hospital," Copeland said.

The situation today points up to a future building expansion program at General hospital in the not too distant future, Copeland said.

Plans for a new 62-bed maternity wing at the hospital were drawn about two years ago but were shelved because of the increasing costs of labor and material. The plans, board members said last night, may have to be brought out and activated.

Copeland, who became superintendent in July, is considering a nine-point improvement program, including a new wing.

Emphasizing that the patient comes first in any good hospital's consideration, Copeland last night outlined his plans for improved conditions.

All mattresses at the hospital are being rebuilt, at the rate of 10 at a time, he said. So far 30 have been reconstructed.

New bedside lamps are replacing the old ones over the entire hospital. Three dozen have been installed and four dozen more new ones are needed.

COMBATS NOISE

"We have started a campaign against excess noise," Copeland declared, "but so far it has been impossible to get all the new rubber wheels and casters that we need. About one-fourth of those ordered have been delivered and installed."

A new dietary program has been started with the hiring of Miss Marilyn Charvat as dietitian.

"We began a selective menu throughout the hospital but found we couldn't swing it that way," Copeland said. "So now we are

Israel Gets Recognition

Four Powers OK Government

LONDON — (INS) — The infant state of Israel was granted "de facto" or partial recognition today by Great Britain, Belgium, Holland and New Zealand.

Such recognition was granted Israel by the United States last May in a swift announcement by President Truman that came within 24 hours after the Jewish state was proclaimed.

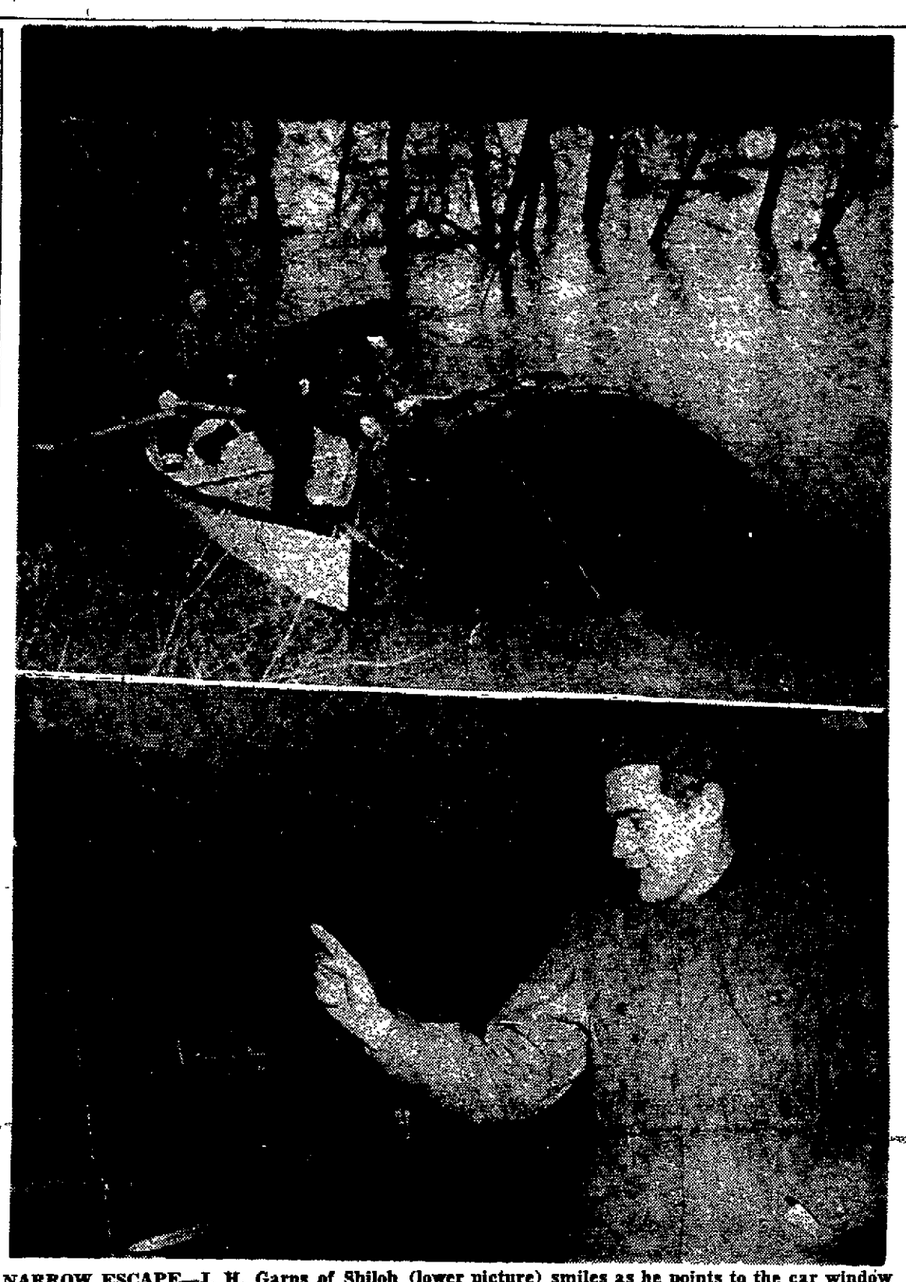
While other nations of the British commonwealth hastened to join in steps formally acknowledging existence of the new Jewish community, a foreign office spokesman imposed one major reservation.

He said that the present recognition by London does not imply sanction of all the territories gained by Israeli warriors in recent warfare.

Nor does it mean that the young state's present frontiers which extend beyond those provided for in the original United Nations partition resolution are accepted as final.

American Faces Treason Charge

WASHINGTON — (AP) — A military plane today carried Herbert John Burgman — for 20 years a state department employe — back to the United States from Germany to face treason charges.



NARROW ESCAPE—J. H. Garns of Shiloh (lower picture) smiles as he points to the car window through which he escaped Thursday when his auto plunged into the icy waters of Black Fork off the Bowman street bridge. Glenn Anderson of Anderson's garage is shown (top picture) fastening a chain to the almost-submerged car as salvage operations get under way. Handling the oars in the swollen waters is Bob Thierlein.

Mayor to Seek Re-Election

6 File Petitions For City Offices

Political activity picked up today in the city with five Democrats and one Republican filing for nominations for city offices.

Mayor Roy W. Vaughn filed his petition this morning, announcing his candidacy for re-election to a third term as mayor on the Republican ticket.

"As I am familiar with the problems of the city I feel that I am better able to carry through the water and airport improvement programs than one who is not familiar with them," he said.

"I will stand on my record for a progressive Mansfield which has always been my main plank," Vaughn said.

Former Mayor William J. Locke and Councilman Thomas J. Wright have been mentioned as possible candidates for the GOP mayoralty nomination. Former Councilman Charles O. Anglin is considered a probable candidate for mayor on the Democratic ticket.

Harry M. Bowman, 533 Woodland avenue, present Fourth ward councilman, filed his intention to run for re-election on the Democratic ticket.

Earle K. Troll, 91 Stewart avenue, Democratic city treasurer, filed a petition seeking a post as councilman-at-large. David Nelson Swihart, 268 Superior street, filed for councilman-at-large on the Democratic ticket. He is at present councilman from the Sixth ward.

Ernest J. White, 105 Bowers avenue, a Democrat, filed for Sixth ward councilman. Peter J. Mayer, 232 Helen avenue, declared his candidacy for city treasurer on the Democratic ticket.

Newly-Weds Escape Injury In Accident

FLORENCE, Italy —(AP)— Mr. and Mrs. Tyrone Power escaped injury yesterday when a small Italian car and Power's American convertible collided.

The Italian car turned over and landed in a ditch. The Powers were married Thursday in Rome and are honeymooning. They left Florence this morning for Turin.

Pull Auto From Creek

'Operation Salvage' Ends In Success

J. H. Garns, of Shiloh, watched his water-soaked car being hoisted out of Black Fork yesterday, after narrowly averting death in it Thursday. His car plunged into the rain-swollen stream when he lost control of it on the Bowman street bridge.

Wrecking crews vainly attempted to hook onto the car for four hours yesterday. Working from a boat they finally succeeded in attaching a chain to the car which was resting in several feet of water.

Once the chain was attached they encountered further difficulty in that the wrecker could not get sufficient traction to pull the car out of the muck and mire. The tow truck was placed on the highway and the car had to be pulled out by the winch.

The car had its top mashed in from rolling over several times before going into the stream, and had to be towed to Garns' home in Shiloh.

FAMILY WINS AWARD

COLUMBUS — (AP) — The James E. Johnson family of Lancaster, Fairfield county, was the state's all-Ohio conservation family today.

Russians Attack Alliance

MOSCOW —(AP)— Russia issued a white paper today to tell the world the projected North Atlantic pact is part of a British-American plan for a new war.

It is a plot against the United Nations and has as its object the establishment of British-American domination of the world by force, said the Soviet Foreign Ministry.

The western European union was declared a link in the plans for world domination by the two powers.

The document took up nearly two pages in the Moscow press. It attracted the immediate interest of Moscow's diplomats.

Specifically, entitled, "Declaration of the Ministry of Foreign Affairs of the U.S.S.R. on the North Atlantic Pact," the paper said Britain and the United States are trying to isolate the Soviet union, undermine the United Nations, institute an economic boycott on the U.S.S.R. and her friends, trying to start a new war and not wanting to conclude peace treaties for Germany and Japan.

In short it summed up the U.S.S.R.'s present view of the entire foreign situation as it has been intensified, in Moscow's opinion, by the projected North Atlantic pact.

It concluded by declaring Russia is going to fight "more firmly and more insistently" against the alleged attempt to wreck the U.N.

VIOLATES CHARTER

One point observed by diplomats was that the white paper laid the basis for a citation of the United States and Britain before the United Nations on charges of violating the charter. The paper flatly asserts that the North Atlantic pact would be a violation of the charter.

The Western European union is composed of Britain, France, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg who signed the Brussels pact in March, 1948. The five powers yesterday announced they had agreed to organize a "Council of Europe" which may open the way to creation of a single parliament for democratic Europe.

President Truman has announced he hopes to submit to Congress soon a North Atlantic pact linking the United States and Canada with the European union in a defense arrangement.

Dollar Now Worth 58c

WASHINGTON — (UP) — The Labor department today estimated that the decline in the cost of living since last August has increased purchasing power of the dollar by one cent.

Department officials said that last August the 1948 dollar bought 57.3 cents worth of goods and services in terms of 1939 dollars — base year of the government's cost of living statistics.

As a result of the cost of living drop published this week, the 1948 dollar as of last Dec. 15 bought 58.3 cents worth of goods in terms of 1939 dollars, the department said.

The Labor department meanwhile reported that its index of wholesale prices dropped for the fifth consecutive week and is now 3.5 per cent below the same week of 1948. The index stood at 158.8 per cent of the 1926 average last Tuesday.

Injunction Weapon Scrapped

'Cooling-Off' Period Cited

WASHINGTON — (INS) — The administration bowed to organized labor today and scrapped the injunction as a government weapon in labor disputes.

A proposed substitute for the Taft-Hartley act was sent to the capitol today by Secretary of Labor Tobin.

The bill was delayed by last-minute rewriting at the White House. The chief revision was elimination of the injunctive process.

As written now the bill provides only for a 30 to 40 day "cooling off" period in national emergency strikes, with recommendations that such disputes be presented for settlement to a presidential fact-finding board.

As originally written, the administration measure waived the Norris-LaGuardia anti-injunction law so far as the government was concerned.

But organized labor was reported to have protested violently against any injunction provisions at all, and the bill was held up while they were removed. The final draft was prepared after a conference at the White House last night

Union leaders carried their protests to both Labor Secretary Tobin and presidential assistant John R. Steelman before winning their point.

Supporters of the injunctive process felt that it was a weapon that should be available to the President in case of a severe disuute that threatened the nation.

'ENOUGH POWER'

But opponents held that the President has enough power to control strike situations even without injunctions.

Administration officials also worked out a compromise on return of the federal mediation service to the jurisdiction of the department of labor.

The new law will call for this shift, but it will provide for appointment of the mediation director by the President and his confirmation by the Senate. Officials hope this arrangement will meet with the approval of Federal Mediation Chief Cyrus S. Ching, who had sought to maintain the independence of his agency.

The director will be responsible only to the President and will retain the authority to appoint personnel of the agency, although being under the labor department for budgetary purposes.

Other provisions of the administration bill will prohibit jurisdictional strikes and certain types of secondary boycotts.

In addition, the measure also will encourage arbitration of disputes arising out of interpretation of labor-management contracts. It will provide for appointment of arbitrators by the secretary of labor in such controversies.

U. S. Judge Threatened

NEW YORK — (AP) — The conspiracy trial of 11 high U. S. communists has taken a new twist with the disclosure that nearly all the principals involved have received threatening letters.

The announcement was made to a packed court room yesterday by Federal Judge Harold R. Medina, presiding judge. Shortly afterwards he adjourned the trial until Monday.

He said he had "no notion" of what brought them on.

After Medina made the disclosure, Harry Sacher, a defense attorney, announced that he too —along with the defendants, all members of the American communist party's National committee, and other defense lawyers— had been threatened by mail.

Reports Mansfield Woman As Missing

Norman Deitrick, of Mansfield R. D. 2, reported to police late yesterday that his sister-in-law, Miss Thelma J. Trupe, North Main street, had been missing from home since Jan. 22.

He described her as five feet, five inches tall, with brown hair and eyes, wearing a gray coat and an orange colored dress.

Beginning Tomorrow—

Stripling Bares Red Conspiracy In U. S.

MANY of the questions Mansfielders have been asking about communism in the United States will be answered—and answered bluntly—in the series of articles beginning tomorrow in The News-Journal.

Robert E. Stripling wrote the 28 stories out of his varied experience as chief investigator for the House un-American Activities committee.

In graphic and dramatic fashion, Stripling gives the answer to such queries as:

"Why did Whittaker Chambers decide to reveal the 'Pumpkin Papers'?"

"What did the late President Roosevelt say when a committee protested that a communist picket slept in Lincoln's bed at the White House?"

"Is secret government information still being stolen from U. S. government files?"

"Why was the Hollywood reds hearing stopped?"

But the Stripling series is far more than answers to sensational questions. It is a carefully presented story of the tactics, identities and objects of communist conspirators in high government circles.

★

The Communist party, which seeks to destroy the American way of life, fears nothing more than exposure. Its sworn agents and its blind dupes who think they are just "liberals," cannot stand the light of truth upon the lying, false tactics which they are taught to use. That is what makes this series of stories so important to all Americans. It exposes boldly how the communists worm and twist their way into unsuspected places.

You will want to read the first article in the Sunday News-Journal and the succeeding stories which will appear daily.

$6,000,000 Repair Bill

WASHINGTON — (AP) — It may cost $6,000,000 instead of the originally estimated $1,000,000 to repair the White House.

Commissioner W. E. Reynolds of the Public Building administration said yesterday that engineers found more things wrong than expected.

Defects were so "fantastic," he said, that the White House could have collapsed at any time.

Do Red Peace Offers Hide a Booby Trap?

The communist peace offensive was launched a few weeks ago by M. Cachin in an address to the French parliament, and was then taken up vigorously by Signor Togliatti in Italy. It has coincided with the economic conference held in Moscow this month by Russia and her satellites, minus Yugoslavia and Finland. It has coincided also with the collapse of the Nationalists in China and the victory of the communists.

The peace offensive in Western Europe is, I believe, connected with the economic conference of Eastern Europe and with the events in China. The connection, which was explained to me emphatically last November by certain highly influential western communists, is the realization that the Soviet orbit is, as compared with the United States and Western Europe, a much underdeveloped region of the earth.

There is no doubt that it is: If we take the capacity to produce steel as rough measure of industrial power, the whole Soviet orbit, vast as it is, is not within sight of being the equal even of Western Europe—leaving out entirely the enormously greater industrial power of the United States.

These facts are not new. But what is almost certainly new is—that the communists in Western and in Eastern Europe—and almost certainly Stalin and the peace party in the Kremlin—have realized and recognized these facts. The Soviet orbit is a big place, bigger than ever if it is to include China. The problem of supplying it with what it needs is a formidable undertaking, and Mr. Mikoyan who is, so to speak, the Paul Hoffman of the Soviet orbit, is probably very much aware that the satellites are also clients who want a lot more than he is able to give them.

30 YEARS BEHIND

A communist who stands very high in the hierarchy told me that in his opinion it would take Russia thirty years to catch up with the United States, that the past two years had proved that Russia could not supply the Eastern European countries with the capital goods that were essential if they were to raise their standard of life. And he went on to forecast not only the present agitation for peace but added the prediction that Moscow would relax her veto on collaboration with the Marshall plan.

When I first heard it, I did not know what to make of this prediction: why, if it was sincere, he made it to me; why, if it was not, he should tell a lie that events would soon expose. That was before Cachin and Togliatti had begun their agitation for peace.

The character of their campaign is such that I, for one, do not think it can be dismissed as mere psychological warfare. The notable thing about the Cachin-Togliatti campaign is that they are preaching peace and collaboration to their own followers—not merely to their opponents, as is always the case in a mere peace offensive.

Would they dare, I wonder, to do that if they intended to call upon their followers to launch more insurrectionary strikes like that which was attempted, and failed so miserably, in Italy last summer after Togliatti was shot, and in France last autumn in the coal mines? Cachin and Togliatti are intelligent men, and I find it hard to believe that they would soften up the French and Italian working classes if they were preparing for a new campaign of insurrectionary strikes.

Knowing, as they do, how profoundly and widely they are suspected and distrusted, they must know that the practical test of their campaign for peace and collaboration will not be in the high diplomacy of Soviet-Western relations. The practical test will be immediate and continuous. It will be whether they use their influence among the trade unions to encourage or obstruct French and Italian production.

If they obstruct, their campaign will collapse and they will have accomplished nothing except to prove in a very spectacular way to the working class of Western Europe that they were lying. If they encourage production, their peace campaign will begin to accomplish what they say it is intended to accomplish.

WAIT AND SEE

There is, therefore, no reason why we should not wait and see, standing on the cool and sensible position taken by Mr. Lovett last week. If this is a mere peace offensive, a trick of psychological warfare, the behavior of the communist-dominated trade unions in France and Italy will expose the deceit far more convincingly than all the nervous warnings printed over here.

If, moreover, it is a mere peace offensive, another incident in the propaganda war, the one most obviously foolish way to answer it is to make the people of the world who yearn for peace think that we are afraid of peace and do not want it.

Any one who had studied the peace offensives of the two world wars—and there were many from both sides—knows that the object of a peace offensive, one might say the mechanism of the booby-trap, is to get the other side to reject the idea of peace.

That rejection makes the peace offensive a success. It weakens the government which rejected peace because its own war-weary people wish it were not so warlike. It strengthens the government which offered the peace that was rejected by convincing its own war-weary people that they are confronted with an implacable enemy.

So let us not, in an excess of zeal, walk into a booby-trap.

Young People Come to Front In Services Sunday

Youth Holds Spotlight In Services

By NITA BRANSON, News-Journal Church Editor

Adult members of the First Presbyterian church may be a bit surprised when approached by young people in the congregation tomorrow morning following worship services. It's all a part of the initial observance of National Youth week.

Special services will be held in at least four Mansfield churches during morning worship hours tomorrow, and in a number of others the Young People's societies will have special services Sunday evening.

Members of the Westminster Fellowship of the First Presbyterian church will take part in tomorrow morning's services will entertain their parents at a covered-dish dinner tomorrow at 5:30 p.m.

"Meeting strangers tomorrow morning, will be our Westminster Fellowship's way of becoming acquainted with more adult members," said Miss Janet Sangree, director of religious education of the church.

"They have agreed that each one will introduce himself after the service to one adult, and to carry the plan of friendliness a little futher, they suggest that all adults sit in different pews from the accustomed ones for this service."

STUDY NEW MATERIALS

Following the supper Sunday night the junior and senior high Fellowship meetings will be held in the parish house and parents and Church School teachers will meet to study the new church school materials.

The final day of Youth Week, Feb. 6 at the church will be featured by the showing of the movie, "My Name is Han" at which youth groups from two other churches of the city will be guests.

Nine young people of the East Mansfield United Presbyterian church will have charge of worship tomorrow morning.

They will include: Frances Davies, chairman for the day; Ruth Casler, Ruth Schmid, Jo-liam Briggs, Marilyn Wheaton, Shirley Bell and Ruth Reynolds. The service will be held at 10:45 p.m. and the theme will be anne Beer, Edward Potter, Wil-"Follow Thou Me."

★

At the St. John's Evangelical and Reformed church, Elisha Floro, Carl Pfeifer, Betty Garver, will participate in the service. Dick Van Voorhis will speak on the topic, "Let God Speak Through Me." Anthems will be sung by the Girls' Ensemble. They have chosen the "Cherubim Song," by Bortnian-sky-Tschiakowsky. Altar flowers will be placed by the Youth Fellowship of the church.

Mathilde Endrody is chairman of the devotional committee.

★

Members of the Youth Advisory Council will sponsor the youth service at the First Methodist church tomorrow morning.

This council includes: Mrs. Harold Mansfield, superintendent, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Hartman and Mr. and Mrs. John Artley.

At the 6 p.m. service of the Intermediate Youth Fellowship, Rabbi Moshe Goldblum will speak on the theme, "Faith of Our Jewish Intermediates."

★

The Pilgrim Fellowship of the First Congregational church will meet with the group at the Little Washington church. Young people of the Mansfield church will leave from the parish house at 6:15 p.m.

Methodist Men Meet

Wilbur C. Peterson has been named chairman of a committee of First Methodist church men who are planning a meeting Tuesday night to organize a men's club.

It is expected that the first official meeting of the club will be held on March 7. Committee members have made arrangements to bring here for that meeting Dr. Arthur S. Fleming, recently named president of Ohio Wesleyan university.

Dr. Fleming will speak on the workings and findings of the Hoover Commission. It will probably be the first appearance of Dr. Fleming following the release of the Hoover plans, Peterson said.

Serving with Peterson on the preliminary committee are Harold Mansfield, W. O. Leedy, Robert O. Richards, George Condos, Louis Jisa and Rev. Charles W. Stoneburner, pastor of the church.

The meeting is open to all men of the church.

2 Women Die In Shaft Fire

BOSTON — (UP) — Two women were killed, six other persons were felled by smoke and about 300 commuters escaped by an emergency exit yesterday in an elevator shaft fire in the Atlantic subway station.

Panic, flames and smoke apparently caused the deaths of the two women whose bodies were found jammed together on a narrow stairway in the tower of the elevator that rises about a story and a half above the street level.

Simpson Notes

15 Pupils In Essay Contest

By LARRY HARPER

Fifteen students from John Simpson are entering the American Legion essay contest.

They are Martha Brown, Patty Shristoff, Mary Herr, Catherine Kalinoff, Judith Abraham, Janet Geary, Diane Hanusz Charlotte Lemley, Barbara Estill, Jacqueline Poulton, Harlena Bailey, Yvonne Moore, Viola Brooks, Wanda Friend and Larry Harper.

The band has organized a trumpet quartet. They are: Charles Laser, Bob Hiskey, John Troupe and Kenneth Haverfield.

Miss Bertha Ulrey, home economics instructor, will take a leave of absence for the second semester in order to attend the University of Denver to work on a master's degree. Mrs. Mable Derr will substitute while Miss Ulrey is away.

Faculty members entertained with a tea Friday noon and presented her with a gift. Ninth cooking classes prepared the tea.

With the end of the Junior Red Cross sales tax stamp drive Feb. 8, approaching, the competition for first place becomes stronger and harder to keep. Room 102 still leads, followed by 105 which is even more closely followed by 214.

Students who went to the noon movie this last week enjoyed Joan Fontaine in the leading role of "Ivy." The show next week will be "The Vigilantes" in technicolor.

The fourth issue of the John Simpson Times was in the hands of subscribers Friday.

SPONSORS DANCE

The ninth grade class will sponsor a dance Friday in the Simpson gym. The chaperons are Miss Hester Robinson, Mrs. Anna Knote, and Coach Robert Kennedy.

"March of Dimes" boxes were placed in Simpson's home rooms this week.

Coach Robert Kennedy has been showing sports pictures on the school's new motion picture machine. This machine was purchased for classroom use only and not for noon movies as was previously announced.

Members of the Times Press club will receive gold pins for their work on the paper at a luncheon in the cafeteria. No date has been set for the party.

The Simpson varsity lost a game to Ashland Reserves Wednesday by a score of 33-29.

Mrs. June Mishey, librarian, attended a convention in Columbus Friday. The library was closed during her absence.

Boys interested in Hi-Y will meet Tuesday at 12:15 in Room 103 with Marshall Smith, adviser.

WINS PRIZE

Wayne Liegey, Room 112, won the math puzzle prize given by the Times. The problem was: a farmer had $100 and had to buy 100 head of livestock. The price per head was: sheep, 50 cents; pigs, $3, and cows $10. He had to buy at least one animal of each kind and spend the entire $100. The answer will be in next week's news notes.

All players on intramural basketball teams must show an eligibility check by Thursday. No "F" grade in the past six weeks is permitted.

June Klein from home Room 106 will leave for Florida Monday with her parents for a month's vacation.

The first semester grade cards will be issued Wednesday.

The Simpson Student Service is admitting new seventh grade members. In order to belong, students must have all grades "C" or above.

Truman Should Ask Nehru In For Visit

A gratifying maturity of American opinion is to be seen in the reaction to formation of the Asian union at the recent meeting in New Delhi. Part of this opinion is undoubtedly due to outrage and alarm at the coldbloodedness of the Dutch treatment of the Indonesians. Part of it is due to faith in the leadership of Nehru. Some of it is born of hope that communism in Asia may be stayed if not stopped by creation of an Asian Union.

Moscow's apprehension, expressed by Tass, that the new coalition may be preliminary to creation of an alliance similar to the Western European union and that "such purposes by no means contribute toward a correct solution of the Indonesian problem in the spirit of international democratic principles" would seem to give some basis for such hopes.

Whether the new coalition becomes an integral part of the world or is forced into a union of colored versus white peoples will be largely determined by the white world itself. It is significant that there were present at New Delhi representatives from Africa as well as Asia.

What has just happened in China is an ominous warning of what can develop throughout Asia and Africa. World War II ended forever the myth of "white superiority." "The Asians—control the bulk of the world's natural resources and by far the greatest reservoir of the world's manpower" without whose cooperation "industrial America and industrial Europe would sink slowly into paralysis" writes John Hohenberg. That cooperation is going to be gained only if America and Europe demonstrate swiftly that they are now willing to treat these brown, yellow and black peoples with full equality.

SUSPICION FLOURISHES

Many generations of racial arrogance and ruthless exploitation have created an enormous hostility and suspicion of the white world among these billion people. Oriental exclusion laws based on skin color in the United States, the Asiatic Land Tenure act in the Union of South Africa, the vacillation of the United Nations with respect to the former Italian colonies in Africa and the former German colony of Southwest Africa, the perpetuation of race discrimination in the United States and the industrious propagandizing in Asia and Africa by the Moscow radio of news of that discrimination, the use by the Dutch of guns, tanks and planes made in America against the Indonesians—these and many more items of similar character form a distressing handicap which we have precious little time to overcome.

It is this long standing series of contemptuous treatment by thoughtless and aggressive whites which rankles in the memories of the people of Asia and Africa which must be overcome to win the friendship and trust of this huge portion of the world's peoples if civilization is to survive.

But it is not only the past which must be atoned for. The present is equally charged with disaster. The American delegation to the recent Paris assembly of the U. N. came perilously close to voting for ruthless carving up of the Italian colonies in North Africa. The ultimate decision was postponed to the next meeting of the U. N. Assembly at Lake Success in April. Asia and Africa will be watching to see what will then be done about the fate of these peoples and areas.

An immediate step which can be taken is herewith recommended. President Truman on behalf of the people and government of the United States should invite Pandit Nehru and other leaders of the Asian Union to come to America as soon as possible for conferences on how they and we can work together for peace and equal opportunity.

No Propaganda Here

U. N. Observers Bring Hope to Children

By JOHN RODERICK

RAMALLAH, Palestine —(AP)— In Palestine, Transjordan and other Arab countries recently large posters bearing photographs of spindly legged refugee children began to appear.

These pictures, turned out by an Arab propaganda agency called the Truth League, were painful in their faithfulness to detail. The camera had reproduced the twisted faces of suffering among the very young in a way hard to forget.

The legend in bold type under the photographs said "United Nations, look! Aren't you proud of what you have done?"

The posters made brief appearances in the lobbies of hotels where United Nations observers live, only to disappear after murmurs of protest from Arabs and observers alike.

They have never been seen on the walls of the little Harb hotel here.

The reason for this goes back roughly two months. At that time there was much talk and little action about the miserable people who had been driven from their homes by the Palestine war.

Captain Richard E. Dwyer of Phoenix, Arizona, a young Air Force pilot, put it up to his 11 comrades. A pound a week, about four dollars, from each one would buy food for a lot of children, he figured. His associates, Americans, Belgians, Frenchmen, all United Nations observers like he, decided to try it out.

They enlisted to help of the hotel owner's wife, Mrs. Boulos Harb, who speaks excellent English, and also likes children. The Harb kitchen began humming.

On the first day the U. N. project was made known 90 children, eagerly clutching tin cups, broken plates, anything that would serve to hold food, came pressing into the hotel grounds.

Two days later, after word had gotten around, 500 were storming the gates, a pathetic battalion of tousled heads, dirty faces, scrawny arms and legs.

The captain and Mrs. Harb looked at each other in dismay. To keep it up was an impossibility. There just wasn't enough money to go around.

Sadly, Mrs. Harb went down the line, picked out sixty of the sickliest and gave them cards permitting them to return daily. Then, with a stifled sob, she turned her back on the rest.

Since then, the Harbs and the U. N. group have been giving one hot meal a day to these 60 Arab children, ranging in age from five to 12.

But this is only half of the story.

The rest concerns Captain Dwyer. Not content with beginning the project, he looked around for some one child he could take under his wing. Married, with two small girls of his own, he felt deeply the suffering which these children were experiencing.

One day his eye fell on a shy girl of ten.

"She was such a very shy, very quiet little thing, the only one who tried to keep herself clean; her hair combed, with a little ribbon tied to it," he explained.

Her name was Kamleh Hanafia, which literally translated becomes in English "Perfect Water Faucet"

He bought her warm clothe. It is terribly cold in Ramallah during these winter months, alternating with driving rains. Then he doctored the sores festering on her legs and ankles.

He plans to put her in school soon, already speaks of her as though she was a daughter.

Drive carefully tomorrow—what's the use of going if you don't get back.

Almost any day, now, you may expect the "Farmer's Diary" to touch on the subject of being a grandparent.

Now the Russians claim to have found a medicine that overcomes fatigue—but why should anyone ever become tired under such an ideal system as they are supposed to have over there?

Internal Conflict Weakens GOP

CLOSENESS of the margin by which Hugh D. Scott jr. retains the chairmanship of the Republican national committee—54 to 50—indicates the complicated situation existing within the Republican party as it seeks to reform its ranks after last year's faux pas and five successive defeats in presidential campaigns.

The controversy in Omaha this week appears to have been strictly along Dewey and anti-Dewey lines, although this seems rather ridiculous for surely the twice-defeated Dewey cannot be seriously regarded as a contender for the 1952 presidential nomination.

If, instead of uniting in support of some constructive policies which have widespread appeal, the GOP continues to be divided between its so-called Old Guard and its younger aspirants for leadership, prospects for restoration to a position of national political dominance do not appear bright.

Recognizing the importance of an effective two-party system for successful operation of a democracy, and realizing the danger of too-long continuance in power by either of the major parties, it may well be hoped that present Republican dissension will be put aside and a constructive program, designed to serve the general welfare, developed and presented as expressing the views of a united party.

Factors In Choosing a Mayor

AN INTERESTING subject is being discussed in Cleveland: "What kind of occupation is best suited to qualify a person for the office of mayor?" Cleveland's Judge James C. Connell, a veteran lawyer, expresses belief that a mayor should not be a lawyer—giving as his reason that lawyers spend too much time in pondering and too little in action. He believes an engineer or business man would be preferable.

It is noted, however, that some big businesses have drawn high executives from the legal profession, and the test seems not so much along that line as whether or not the person being considered has executive ability, initiative, energy and dependable honesty required in a position of such large responsibility.

One thing that seems indisputable is that failure to make a living in business, profession or private employment should not be accepted in lieu of qualifications, in selection of officials at national, state or local levels.

Secrecy Will Weaken Confidence

SINCE the time eight months ago when Britain, France, Belgium, the Netherlands, and Luxembourg allied themselves for defense in a Western Union, their own people and the world at large have received only a thin trickle of news about the venture.

This policy of secrecy has been in most part due to the unwillingness of France to permit publication by proceedings. The French have feared internal criticism by De Gaullists and by communists.

Recently the views of the other powers on this matter have been voiced by Lord Layton, a prominent British publisher, who has declared that the Western Union's accomplishments will remain only plans on paper if they lack public support. And public support will not be given without efficient publicity. Neither is American aid likely to be forthcoming, say the advocates of a change in policy, unless the American public is informed about the set-up.

The number grows gradually smaller of nations in which a few people at the top of government can make and carry out decisions over the heads of the people concerned.

Edison's Birthdate To Be Observed

NEXT February 11th, the birthday of Thomas Alva Edison will be observed on a nation-wide scale, as it has in past years. The emphasis is to be placed upon community recognition of the inventor's great contributions to human betterment, and all manner of civic and service organizations will play a leading part.

The achievements of Edison are too well known to need repeating. Foremost among them were his successful experiments in the science of electricity, which provided the groundwork on which the whole vast power industry was built, and which have revolutionized the living and working habits of the American people. Edison Day thus becomes a tribute to one of the greatest public benefactors the world has ever known.

But there is more to it than this. Edison Day must also be seen as a celebration of the greatest force for progress that exists—the freedom of the individual to explore, to create, to fail and to succeed, all without coercion or domination by government.

Russian Novelists Suffer Rebuke

NOVELISTS are not giving satisfaction in Russia. As agents of the state, which they are, like almost everybody else, they have been told by the semi-official Literary Gazette of Moscow that they must do better.

The trouble is in their choice of heroes. These have been chiefly outstanding factory workers, collective farmers, and army officers. They have neglected the ordinary workers, bookkeepers and clerks, who should have been treated as glamorous, fit subjects for romance.

Watch now for a flood of Russian novels about the least conspicuous white-collar members and laborers. For either the novelists will do what they are told, or look for some other means of making a living.

Even modern science has its failures. So far no remedy has been found for a new type of earthworm which is playing havoc with eastern golf courses, throwing up ridges like a series of fortifications on putting greens. A golfer can weather most hardships, but when anything interferes with his game, it's serious.

Claude Callan laments: "If we were rearing another family we would see that the children got a little education as well as schooling."

Raymond Moley's Analysis

Communists Use Trial For Propaganda

HAROLD MEDINA, judge in the Federal District court of the Southern district of New York, may well emerge from the current communist trial as a celebrated national figure or he may finally wish he had never left the practice of law for a career on the bench.

For this trial promises to be a show—and a long one—filled with communist dialectic, propaganda, disorder and hilarious comedy. A judge who can weather such a storm deserves high honors.

Twelve high-ranking communists were indicted in the New York Federal District months ago for conspiracy to teach and advocate the overthrow of the government of the United States by force and violence. At the moment, 11 of these defendants and their 10 lawyers are clearly attempting to overthrow the American system of justice by disorder, quibbling and delay.

Every conceivable effort is being made to reach the public. A gang of some hundreds of communists are picketing the court house with placards and noisy demonstrations. These people hoot and abuse the judge when he enters. One of the defendants uses his floor privileges as a member of the city council to carry on harangues about the trial.

The judge and the district attorney are subjected to every possible annoyance in court. One lawyer accused them of maintaining an "armed camp" because of the presence of police. Another speaks of the place of the judge's residence as a "silk stocking district."

When the judge speaks softly, he is charged with "sarcasm." When he is firm, he is "tyrannical." Despite a delay of six months, the lawyers shout about beng "rushed to trial."

The whole jury system is at the moment under attack. It is "undemocratic." It excludes Negroes, Jews and all poor people. An attempt was first made to disqualify the judge because, it was claimed, he was responsible for the system of drawing prospective jurors. When he overruled this, the defense tried to examine him as a witness. This he refused because it certainly would have disqualified him.

* * *

Test of Endurance.

FINALLY, the defense has started questioning all prospective jurors about their education, the value of the houses they occupy, their political beliefs and the like. The claim is that the jury panel is a "rich man's club" and that any trace of education in a juror is "undemocratic."

One lawyer staged a spell of weeping in court. The next day the judge admonished him for this.

"I don't make any apology," he replied.

"You certainly wept and wept in the sight of the law," suggested the judge.

The lawyers then made a speech about how his emotion was aroused by "years of discrimination against my race."

Judge Medina is a colorful, able lawyer who served on the Columbia law school faculty under the deanship of the last Chief Justice Stone.

He has had long experience as a trial lawyer. But on this case he must now spend months holding his temper, guerdng his utterances and weighing every decision.

For the unseen witnesses always in his mind must be the justices of the United States Supreme Court, some of whom, like Justice Murphy, have been none too strict in their interpretations of communism. That is the tribunal where this long show will certainly have its final stand.

Meanwhile, the communists are making the most of the defenses provided over the centuries by the system they want to destroy.

Wallace Idea Revived

By THOMAS L. STOKES

WASHINGTON —As intriguing as the idea itself are the human origins of President Truman's bold plan for world economic development on a democratic basis which he has proposed as a counterfoil to communism.

It got its initial inspiration from the man who often was called "a Hudson Valley Squire"—Franklin D. Roosevelt—who made no early pretensions to such vision, nor had a background that would seem to encourage it.

He never got far with it after he came toa place of power because he was overwhelmed, first, by depression, then by war, though he planted the seeds in our own country with his New Deal.

Now that plan is being carried to the world by a man who comes from an entirely different sort of background which would seem no more appropriate, a comfortable, normal, typically American background of farm and small town in the midlands.

He never, during most of his career, gave signs of such imagination. Most of his mature life, after an unsuccessful venture in business, was devoted to politics, and in a routine,uninspired sort of way until he became President, first by accident, now by election. He is not a world-traveled man, nor a political philosopher in the way that is usually meant.

Yet, when all is considered, it is natural for Harry Truman to be thinking and acting as he is. His roots are deep in our soil, our people, and our best traditions, and this enterprise is a truly indigenous conception, common sense tinged with vision.

He is close to average people, and understands them. And they are the same everywhere in the world, no matter in what nation, or of what nationality, race, color or creed.

Also he has seen and helped to develop a new sort of democracy in this country in recent years in which the government, as representative of the people, has come to interest itself more in the welfare of the people on a partnership basis.

* * *

Resembles Wallace Idea.

IT MAY be heresy to point it out, but his conception was once very simply put by another midlander from the farm, Henry Wallace, when he said that every child in the world should have a quart of milk every day. For that he was derided.

It was a revolutionary idea, for it hit at the sacred privileges of our production and distribution system from which a few profit handsomely, but it was also common sense. It is no more revolutionary than Harry Truman's idea, which is also common sense.

The vision of that bottle-of-milk idea was what once won so many to Henry Wallace, though some who attached themselves to him in these latter days would not like Harry Truman's proposal, for they would achieve it by authoritarian rather than democratic means.

Harry Truman's project finds a sponsor, too, in that citizen of the world, Sir John Boyd Orr, the sturdy and essentially simple Scotch professor and agriculturalist who launched the food and agricultural organization for the United Nations.

He once said that if the world cannot do the very basic job of feeding everybody in it, then we are lost. It should, indeed, be a simple job; but it isn't.

The ultimate aim of President Truman's plan is to increase the influence and effectiveness of some of those U.N. agencies which thus far have received too scant attention, though doing fine preliminary work, for they constitute the machinery for this world cooperative endeavor.

President Truman's project is not a boon-doggle—for the object is to help people to help themselves. Nor is it old-fashioned "private enterprise" as that term is so often used. It must reach the people everywhere and enlist them.

It can only succeed if it is worked out with people of our democratic spirit and not if it relies upon the sort of special interests, the monopolists, cartelists, international financiers, with whom some of our business and financial leaders and some of our military officials have begun again to show a dangerous sort of sympathy.

Farmer's Diary

Consider the Ant

By CALVIN A. BYERS

A FEW days ago I spoke of my theory that insects make their own anti-freeze in winter weather. Today a letter came from a reader who corroborates my theory with the statement that lumberjacks in the north woods of Michigan are known to eat clusters of ants and become intoxicated.

This reader's neighbor, "a fine Christian farmer," told him that in the woods of Maine and Michigan clusters of large black ants are a winter delicacy that contains enough alcohol to be definitely stimulating. Woodsmen eat them greedily and after the first bitter mouthful, find them exceedingly palatable.

It seems the ants store up sugar or nectar which changes to alcohol as the winter comes on, and the ants huddle together in the aging wood of some old tree. Hardy lumbermen sometimes become hilariously intoxicated on a "free jag" of ants!

* * *

LAST WEEK our oldest boy was cutting chestnut posts and uncovered a knot of black ants, feeble and stiff from cold. He watched them for a little, and a flicker on a nearby tree "laughed" and perched overhead to watch, too. The boy went home to lunch. When he came back, the bird had lunched, too. Not an ant was left, anywhere.

But the part that seemed strangest was that the bird trailed the boy around all afternoon, hoping for another appetizer. "He was so tame I might almost have picked him up. He was reckless. He just didn't care!"

Bears seek out ants and rake open the mounds with their claws. Much ant food is pollen or nectar of honeylike consistency. The secretions of ants thus have a characteristically sweet-bitter taste. Hold a large ant and pinch it slightly between thumb and forefinger. Droplets collect from head and mouth. Separate a cluster of black ants, and note the creamy granules that remain on your fingers. They have a cruel bittersweet taste.

"Go to the ant, thou sluggard; consider her ways and be wise."—Prov. 6:6.

"There be four things which are little upon the earth, but they are exceeding wise: the ants are a people not strong, yet they prepare their meat in the summer."—Prov. 30:24, 25.

Summary of Week's Happenings

Congress Committees Have Full Dockets

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

CONGRESS went into a committee speed-up this week after three weeks spent largely in organization, orientating new members and studying the President's program as outlined in the annual messages.

Neither Senate nor House has done much actual legislating yet. The bills just were not ready.

But the start of floor debate, committee hearings in full swing and huddles over drafting prospective bills mean that the legislative machinery is shifting into high gear.

Labor committees in both Senate and House were deep in deliberation on Tift-Hartley law changes and minimum wage standards.

Seek Filibuster Curb.

The Senate rules committee sought a means of curbing filibusters which in the past have blocked many bills. Until it is found, the fate of civil rights measure is precarious.

The House ways and means committee conducted hearings on extension of the reciprocal trade program. The present act expires June 30 and President Truman wants it extended without the strings attached to it by the Republican-controlled 80th Congress.

Senate and House banking committees were occupied with two other 80th Congress emergency measures — rent control and anti-inflation laws.

Wants "Mandatory Power"

Secretary of Commerce Sawyer told a Senate small business subcommittee the administration soon would ask "mandatory powers" to control distribution of steel and other major commodities in short supply. He estimated the shortage of finished steel products this year will be more than seven million tons.

Sawyer urged a temporary extension, for seven months, of the GOP anti-inflation law which permits voluntary agreements on allocation of scarce items. The law expires March 1 and congressional leaders want it extended until they have time to work out the new program.

Abolish Rent Hikes.

The banking committees also wrestled with the rent control problem which comes to a head March 31, when the act passed by the 80th Congress expires. Current sentiment is for an extension of controls for possibly two years, but without the present provision permitting voluntary rent hikes up to 15 per cent.

Senate and House foreign committees conferred with Secretary of State Acheson on future needs of the European aid plan.

At Home

Stock Fed From Planes.

Hay dropped like manna from heaven for several million head of starving livestock snowed in on western ranges.

President Truman made $100,000 available for relief of snowbound Indians and cattle as the Air Force instituted "Operation Haylift" with 17 Flying Boxcars loaded with hay and fodder concentrates. Flights continued until snow-blocked roads could be opened.

Nearly a million sheep and tens of thousands of cattle were starving in Utah in two and three-foot snow. In places drifts were 20 feet.

Ely in eastern Nevada was a focal point of the huge airlift. Emergency crews with snowplows worked round the clock opening roads to ranches.

* * *

Affliction of Age.

Rheumatism and arthritis are the most common form of crippling among Americans.

These diseases attack old people by growing infantile tissues. These babytype tissues appear in bones, cartilege, muscles and other tissues wherever rheumatic diseases strike.

These embryonic tissues, says a report of the Arthritis and Rheumatism Foundation, are the only known thing the various rheumatic diseases have in common.

Causes and remedies for rheumatic diseases are not known, says the report.

* * *

From Behind Iron Curtain.

For the third time in two years Miami is host to a group of Baltis refugees who braved the Atlantic Ocean in a sailboat to escape "Russian persecution."

Thirty-seven Finns and Estonians arrived in a 95-foot two-masted schooner after a five-months voyage from Sweden.

Walter F. Miller, district immigration chief, said the entire group had been quarantined, pending legal action.

* * *

Freedom Train.

The Freedom Train has completed a 37,106-mile tour of all 48 states with its treasured historical documents.

Officially it's at the end of the line. But efforts are being made to keep the train running.

Bills have been introduced in Congress to set up a government commission to operate the train two more years. The legislation has the blessing of President Truman.

The Freedom train began its journey September 17, 1947, at Philadelphia. Since then it has visited 324 cities where it was viewed by 3,521,841 people. The tour ended in Washington.

Abroad

Russia's Latest Move.

The newest Soviet tactic in the east-west dispute is what some observers consider a "peace offensive." At least it is a propaganda attempt to convince the rest of the world that it can get along with Russia.

Experience, however, has taught western diplomats to wait for actions before they place too much reliance on communistic words.

Marcel Cachin, veteran French Communist leader, recently declared: "If the American and Russian people fought the war together, it is even more probable they can construct the peace together."

Quotes

Army Secretary Royall: "War is at least possible and therefore the peacetime draft is absolutely necessary."

President Truman: "I don't believe the government is going to let landlords get away with attempts for mass eviction of tenants in protest against rent controls."

Russia is sending a delegation to the current international wheat conference in Washington, after boycotting others.

* * *

Nazi Fumble Revealed.

The entire Normandy invasion plan was captured by the Germans on the first day of the assault but they failed to capitalize on it.

"Had that paper been recognized for its true value, the entire outcome of the war might have been different," declared Lieut. Gen. Clarence R. Huebner, chief of the American Ground Forces in Europe.

He related the incident at Heidelberg last week during American winter maneuvers in Germany to illustrate the paramount importance of speedy communications in combat.

Huebner said the invasion plan was captured on the Omaha beachhead in the initial phase of the Normandy landing. It was sent back through normal German channels and did not reach Field Marshal Von Rundstedt until 30 days later.

By that time the Allies had a firm foothold on the French coast and the document was virtually valueless.

* * *

British Balance Wheel.

Newborn babies in rationed Britain are the healthiest ever —and the population's over-all death rate is the lowest ever since 1930.

The number of babies dying under the age of one year dropped from 41 per thousand in 1947 to 34 in 1948. This is close to the 1947 U. S. rate of 32.6.

The Nation Today

Ideas About Communism

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON — Secretary of State Dean Acheson calls communism reactionary. And he is right. But why is he, since so many people think of communism as "radical"?

Reactionary means going back, not forward. It's a return to the old way of doing things, says the dictionary.

And in its handling of people —disregard for the freedom of the individual—communism has turned the clock back a thousand years.

Radical, in the dictionary, means a sweeping change in laws or government.

And Russian communism, in the 1917 revolution which put them in power, certainly made sweeping changes in Russia.

So anyone who thinks of communism as radical in that sense—a sweeping change—is right.

But that doesn't mean because a change has occurred the change is a step forward.

And if you think of the communist government as radical in the sense of being new, you're wrong.

Kings, dictators, emperors and ruling groups have run the world for most of history.

They trampled on the idea that men are equal, have equal rights, and are entitled to equal freedom and justice.

They looked upon themselves, or the state, as all important, not the individual.

In their thinking the individual existed for the state, not the state for the benefit of the individual.

* * *

Aspired To "Freedom."

GRADUALLY as society grew older, commerce developed, and economic conditions changed—spreading ideas and people — western man finally fought his way to this point:

That a government belongs to the people, not the people to the government, and that all men are free and equal.

Western society developed to its highest point the idea that each human being is a free person.

It wasn't in perfect working order. Western men were trying to make it more perfect. Then came the Russian revolution.

When the bolsheviks, now called the communists, seized power in the 1917 revolution, they were only a minority group in Russia.

They still are a minority group there. Only 6,000,000 of Russia's 200,000,000 are permitted to belong to the Communist party.

And that small group — and just because it is so small—runs the country by force.

The Russians had been oppressed by the czars, up to the time of the revolution.

Did the revolution mean a new freedom for the mass of the Russian people, something that would bring them abreast of the political and individual freedom men in the west were gettin?

No. It meant a secret police, jail without trail, shooting or exile to Siberia. It meant a control and secret terror as bad as the czars had used.

(True, the Russian people under communism may be better off economically than under the czars but this story—and Dean Acheson—talks of western man's greatest progress: political freedom.)

Many people in this country have been pro-communist or sympathetic to communism for various reasons, such as being muddled.

Being that way they accepted blindly the idea put out by communists that communism would lead to a brave new world and a better life.

But if they look at the whole picture clearly and coldly, can they have any real faith in a future promise that starts out with the step backward into the dark ages?

Women Making Laws.

As compared with seven in the Eightieth Congress, there are nine women in the new Eighty-first, five Republicans and four Democrats.

The outstanding instance of a woman's victory was the election to the Senate of Maine's Margaret Chase Smith.

The women's division of the Democratic National committee interestingly reports that 73 women were elected Democratic members of state legislatures in November, 66 representatives and seven senators. New Hampshire leads in the number of its women Democratic lawmakers, with one senator and 10 representatives.

Slowly, but notably—desirably, we think — women are taking a larger part in state and national lawmaking.—Detroit News.

State to Curb 'Under-Age' Drivers

There's No Need to Look Longer For the New South, It's Here!

BIRMINGHAM, Ala.—(AP)—Ole Massa with the mint julep in his hand don't live here any more.

Yes, suh, there was an old South—there really was. But now, yes suh, there's a new South—there really is.

And the new South is right here, springing up like danderlions, getting purty as a speckled pup on a red wagon. Of course, those hammerheads up Nawth don't know the new South is arriving.

But, you know, it's a funny thing—a visitor gets the odd feeling the people down this way don't realize how far they've gone in the direction they're going.

They have a luncheon or a banquet, yes suh, they generally or certainly do. And they generally and almost certainly also will have at least one speaker who will discuss "the new South." Well, it's a funny thing about that speech. It is pretty likely to bring up the roses and raptures of the old South. And everybody gets chunky-in-the-throat and misty-eyed over the glamorous past.

And then the speaker, in a brief and defiant finale, comes out flatly with a prediction the "new South" everybody's been waiting for is on the way, sure as justice."

As a Missouri-born stranger whose folks got here from Ireland too late to get mixed up in the America's famous quarrel, I claim I am as unprejudiced as a man can be who believes Robert E. Lee got directed to the wrong court house at Appomattox.

All that was long ago if not faraway, of course, and that is what I think of when I hear these grandsons of one of the worst military occupations in history talk about the "new South."

I have seen two recent American overseas military occupations—in Germany and Japan—and I am sure they were softer than the occupation the pore South suffered. Afer all, if your mother-in-law moves in, doesn't she muscle there longer than anybody?

But that brings me back to the real point—which is, what happens after mammy-in-law, moves out: Well, it is hard to realize. And I think it is hard for the South to realize that it is freer than it knows—and maybe going farther than it understands.

Henry Grady, the beloved Southern editor, once wrote: "The south will come into its own when the fields are green in winter."

By that he meant the South would have gotten away from the multiple slavery of one crop-cotton. Well, today the fields of Alabama, a key state of the old South, are green. The cattle fatten where they never grazed before.

There aren't so many leaning tar and tin covered wood shanties, wearying a hillside. Brick buildings are going up, factories are opening. People, black and white, are coming home with more take-home money. School buildings for the poor white, the poor black, are rising in every area. They are wiping out the long dark shadow on the slow soft land.

And that—I think—is the way it is about the old South and the new South. The new South is here, happening every day to the people still scanning the horizon for it to come.

The news should go North, too. It is important news to all America. Progress is here arriving.

Time Magazine Pulls Small-Time Wire Act Defending Defense Bill

TIME MAG does a small-time wire-walking act all over its page 16. It tries to defend the infamous civil defense bill, so-called, but not in print. It is so skittish about being caught with an opinion on the measure (called here a try to legalize concentration camps) that it skips all its usual news slanting adjectives and runs most of its sentences frontward. That signifies real panic.

Oh, Mr. Screwluce! Timidity will never win back your mag's deserters and their splendid coin. And you will never hurt Drew Pearson or Retlaw Chellwyn—by belting us with powder puffs.

This kind of milquetoasting will get people to thinking that your reformed Communist (recent Time chief editor Whittaker Chambers) represented ALL your editorial guts.

Muny Court Marks Up Record Year

3,366 Criminal Cases Handled

Mansfield municipal court had the busiest year in its history, Judge H. H. Schettler's annual report showed today.

Following a three-year trend, the number of criminal cases filed reached 3,366, or 246 more than were filed in 1947 and 347 more than in 1946.

In addition, 944 civil cases were filed in 1947, an 11 per cent increase over the previous year.

The statistical report revealed that of the total of 3,366 criminal cases 1,273 were traffic violations.

The report stated that major traffic violations during 1948 were generally the same in number except for speeding. Two-hundred and 98 were filed as compared with 478 last year.

In other traffic categories, 97 persons were prosecuted for driving under the influence of alcohol, 30 for having physical control of a motor vehicle while under the influence of alcohol, 50 for leaving the scene of an accident, and 166 for unsafe operation.

155 OFFENSES

Judge Schettler said the varied nature of the criminal branch of the court is shown by the fact that the total of 3,366 cases filed covered 155 different offenses.

As usual, more intoxication charges were filed than in any other category. There were 1,467 such affidavite filed, as compared with 1,220 in 1947.

Other large classifications (excluding traffic) were: 126 assault and battery, 11 breaking and entering, 10 carrying concealed weapons, 50 disorderly conduct, 116 drunk and disorderly conduct, 29 fighting, 38 gambling, 28 loitering, 13 malicious destruction of property, 20 petty larceny, and 18 threatening in a menacing manner.

Total receipts of the court, in 1948 were $64,871 as compared with $60,954 the previous year.

Commenting on the civil actions in 1948, Judge Schettler wrote that 84 of the 944 cases were eviction cases.

"This compares with 180 in 1947 and 208 in 1946. It would appear that the housing problem is slowly being worked out by new construction," he said.

Commenting on the recently-opened municipal courtroom on the third floor of the city building, Judge Schettler wrote:

"The new courtroom . . . has improved the administration of this office to a marked degree. The dignified atmosphere and acoustics of the new courtroom have assisted materially in increasing the public's respect for this office."

Judge Schettler added that the court is faced with the problem of inadequate office space and renewed his plea for assistance from city council to provide more space.

Leaves Million, Wants It Scattered

Missing Jewels, Bonds Sought

AKRON —(AP)— Administrators of the estimated $1,000,0000 estate of an aged woman recluse renewed their search of her downtown hotel room today for missing jewelry and negotiable government bonds worth more than $250,000.

The valuables were owned by Miss Frances Louise Butler, about 80, who died Thursday of pneumonia without leaving a will and apparently without any surviving relatives.

W. A. Woodling, Akron lawyer and a co-administrator of the estate, said a preliminary search of the woman's room yesterday failed to produce three government bonds worth $250,000.

She had withdrawn some personal jewelry, two $75,000 bonds and one $100,000 bond from a bank safety deposit box a few weeks ago.

The aged woman was reputed to be a former Metropolitan opera star, but no proof of this was found in her belongings. A number of clippings from newspapers were discovered, but these dealt mostly with her hats and dresses. None of them revealed any hints as to her past life.

Before her death she expressed the wish that her money be scattered over the sea from an airplane after she died.

For years she had lived in a $2.75-a-day hotel room, leaving it but seldom and then only in the daytime.

An extensive search is underway for heirs, but Miss Butler had never married and is believed to have left no relatives.

If none are found, the entire estate—with or without the missing $250,000 in bonds—will revert to the state of Ohio.

$1,000,000 MYSTERY—A nation-wide search is under way for heirs of Miss Louise Butler (insert above), who died in Akron, leaving an estate estimated at $1,000,000. The recluse lived in a $2.75-a-day hotel room and was reputed to be a former Metropolitan opera star. The photo is believed to have been taken about the turn of the century. Photo shows Walton A. Two Homes Are Entered

Thief, Prowler Use Unlocked Doors

A thief and a prowler walked into two Mansfield homes early today through unlocked doors.

Alberta Amsbaugh, 187 East Second street, reported that a purse containing $28 was stolen from her dining room table. She said the thief entered through the kitchen door and that she got a glimpse of where she had been sleeping him from the living room on the davenport. The theft occurred at 2 a. m.

A few minutes later, police were told that a prowler entered the home of Miss Barbara Walton 339 North Mulberry street. The family was awakened and Miss Walton's brother notified police, who found that the prowler had entered through an unlocked front door.

At 5 a. m., Floyd Smith, 99 West Second street, reported that a blanket, a flashlight and a pair of gloves valued at $20 were stolen from his unlocked parked car at the Westinghouse lot. He said the theft occurred between 4 and 4:45 a. m. today.

Mrs. Miller Dies At 75

Mrs. Margaret M. Miller, 75, of 60 Dawson avenue, died Friday afternoon at General hospital following a month's illness.

Mrs. Miller was born Aug. 18, 1873 in Mansfield and spent her entire life in this community. She was a member of the St. Paul Lutheran church.

Surviving are one son, Carl E. Miller; five daughters, Mrs. Lillian Marlow, Miss Ida Miller, Mrs. Della McMullen and Mrs. Dale Gaster, all of Mansfield, and Mrs. Clarence Hegel of Fort Wayne, Ind.; two granddaughters; Carlene and Eilene Miller and a great-granddaughter, Mrs. Malinda Miller.

The body is at the Wappner funeral home where services will be held Monday at 1:30 p.m. by Rev. James E. Davey, pastor of the Grace Gospel church. Burial will be in the Mansfield cemetery.

Handles YW Registrations

Mrs. Irl Fisher is serving as registrar for the "Ladies Day Out" series of meetings at the YWCA, it was announced today.

Mansfield women wishing to enroll in the program, which will be held for an eight-week period starting Tuesday, Feb. 8, are requested to contact Mrs. Fisher, association officials said.

Planning the program, which will open at 10 a. m. each Tuesday, are the following members of the Home Women's Program Committee: Mrs. George Harmony, Mrs. Lionel Smaltz, Mrs. Fisher, Mrs. J. L. Hogan, Mrs. J. S. Fifer, Mrs. W. S. Turpeau, Mrs. C. L. Gunder and Mrs. G. A. Blausser, assisted by Miss Agnes Kessler and Miss Dorothy Hainer of the YWCA staff.

Sets Record

Mystery: Pupils Go for Poetry!

If members of the Richland county library staff are wearing puzzled expressions these days it's because they ARE puzzled.

For months the county bookmobile, which supplies reading material to 24 rural schools, has been building up its supply of horse and dog stories, mysteries, western thrillers and fairy tales to satisfy their borrowers.

Then a few weeks ago they began to get requests for stories with a World War II background. This they attributed to the mounting tension and current unrest regarding foreign affairs.

But when the requests suddenly took a turn toward books on poetry from children throughout the county, Mrs. Lois Pennell, county librarian and her assistants were stumped.

Why fourth, fifth and sixth grade boys and girls should suddenly develop an interest in poetry was a question for which no answer was available. The teachers only added to the mystery when they revealed there have been no "extra assignments" on poetry in the schools.

Spring is still several months away, so budding trees and soft winds can't be used as an explanation, Mrs. Pennell said.

The Richland county bookmobile goes to 24 schools in the county each week, and includes special stops in Butler, Shiloh and Ganges.

Mrs. Pennell revealed this week that since the bookmobile began serving the county on June 15, 1948, it has covered a distance of 3,105 miles and distributed 17,658 books. An average of 25 to 50 books have been circulated in one stop at the one-room schools, while the larger schools like Springfield township and Lexington will borrow from 300 to 400 books each time the bookmobile visits, Mrs. Pennell said.

Car Crashes Into Train

George Summers, 33, of 200 Rowland avenue, was hospitalized early today after his car crashed into the side of a westbound Pennsylvania railroad passenger train at the East Fifth street crossing.

He was admitted to General hospital to be treated for head lacerations and face and leg bruises.

Summers told police that he was heading east on Fifth street about 5:30 a.m. at 10 to 15 miles an hour and as he approached the crossing, he did not see the watchman's lantern.

Apparently he tried to avoid the collision, police said, because the right side, rather than the front of the car was damage

Brother, Prominent Realtor, Succumbs

Mrs. Edward Davis, 217 South Main street, has been called to Columbus by the death of her brother, John E. McCrehen, 70, who succumbed Friday following a heart attack.

Mr. McCrehen was a Columbus realtor and member of the city planning commission. He had also served as a member of the state board of real estate examiners.

Burial will be made Monday at 9:30 a. m. in St. Joseph's cemetery, Columbus.

HAPPY BIRTHDAY—

Congratulations to Howard B. Dirlam, Mansfield attorney and secretary of the Mansfield Building and Loan company, who is 93 years old today.

In spite of his four score and 13 years, Mr. Dirlam was at the company office early this morning for a full day's work. Tonight, members of his family will have a quiet dinner party for him at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Relmond Shaffer, 465 Park avenue west.

Best wishes also to Al Preyer, personnel director and advertising manager for the Ideal Electric company.

OUT ON TOP—

Ex-Mansfielder Joe C. Hartline, now mayor of Marietta, came out on top in a dispute with the head of Marietta's city council this week when Council President S. Durward Hoag announced his resignation. Hoag made a public apology to the mayor when he resigned. Earlier in the week he threatened to show the mayor "who is boss." With his resignation Hoag withdrew his candidacy for re-election. Mayor Hartline was a resident of Mansfield for several years in the late '20s and early '30s. He was an official of the City Loan here.

starting it by units. It is about completed in the pavilion and we hope to move on to another unit."

The water program at the hospital has been revamped with the installation of a new water softener at a cost of $8,000 and the laying of an extra main from Ohio street. This program will be completed in 10 days.

The sixth point in his program, Copeland said, is additional training for nurses so that they may become better supervisors and ward managers.

"We are planning intensive training of several weeks, in both management and psychology for our nurses," he said.

The microfilming program which Copeland began shortly after his arrival is completed and the space formerly occupied by tons of records is cleared enough "for a dance," he said last night.

The laboratory is due for revamping, Copeland said. Under the direction of Miss Mary Lewis, an entire new set-up will be arranged.

His ninth point, Copeland pointed out, is the building expansion program.

BIRTHS DOWN

While births were down in 1948 from the number in 1947 over-all hospital demands have increased, Copeland showed in his report.

During 1948 there were 9,124 patients admitted to the hospital; in 1947, 8,810. Last year there were 1,774 births as compared with 1,811 in 1947.

Emergency room cases during the year totaled 2,105, an increase of 219 over the previous year. That makes an average of almost six per day, Copeland pointed out.

The average number of patients per day was 183.3 as compared with 182.4 in 1947; average stay per patient was 7.3 days as compared with 7.6 days the previous year. There was a total of 3,984 operations in 1948 and 3,836 in 1947. Laboratory procedures numbered 44,135 in 1948 and 39,099 in 1947. X-rays totaled 14,314 last year, and 313,074 meals were served.

Total gross earnings during 1948 were $831,668. Operational expenses were $773,444. Additional reserve for bad accounts was set as $30,000. Capital expenses were $29,588, making a total expense of $833,033. The hospital operated at a net deficit for 1948 of $1,365.06.

Dr. Joseph B. Edelstein was approved as a staff member of the hospital last night upon recommendation of the present medical staff.

Board members chosen included: Miss Muriel Aberle, H. W. Arlin, Ephraim Brown, Fred Burgener, George Draffan, Charles Fuchs, Earl Garrison, Carl Graf, Charles Huston, E. W. Loughridge, Matthew Mayer, Austin Rhoades, Glenn Speelman, E. B. Swigart and M. Dale Ward.

Judge Favors Proposal

Wants Licenses Restricted

A state-wide move to get 14 and 15-year-old automobile drivers off the highways today got the enthusiastic backing of Juvenile Judge Stuart H. Cramer.

Judge Cramer said he was entirely in agreement with newly-appointed State Registrar Frank M. Quinn's proposed move to curb under-age drivers.

Several months ago Judge Cramer advocated more rigid enforcement of the driving laws pertaining to young people. He hears traffic cases involving juveniles.

Judge Cramer pointed out that no change in actual law was in the offing but the present law restricting licenses to youths under 16 would be tightened. The state law prohibits persons under 16 from driving except where there is some urgent need for them to drive.

The use and issuance of such "restricted" licenses has been flagrantly "over done," Judge Cramer said.

"I don't think 50 per cent of those who have them need them. The law pertaining to licenses for young people should be strictly construed," he declared.

The judge held that many of the youngsters who hold restricted licenses use them for running around for pleasure, day and night.

He recommended that driving under such licenses should be allowed only under the supervision of parents. He conceded that in some cases 14 and 15-year-olds need to drive cars, but they should be carefully checked and supervised.

Wants Firm Dissolved

A petition asking the dissolution of partnership operating a lunchroom was filed in Common Pleas court yesterday, with one of the partners charging the other with excluding him from the premises.

The petition said Harvey Day, 276 North Adams street, and Martha Butts, 223 North Franklin avenue, entered into a partnership to purchase and operate the North End Lunch, at the latter adress. Day said the building and equipment were bought by the partners in 1945, and for a time they both operated the lunch room.

Day charged his partner forced him off the premises and refused to give him an accounting of assets, income, and expenditures. He asks that the partnership be dissolved, a receiver appointed to sell the establishment, and the proceeds be divided between the parties. A hearing on the case has been set for Feb. 5.

Pair Held In Car Theft

Mansfield police turned two Crestline men over to Sheriff P. T. Kindinger, of Crawford county, yesterday to answer charges of operating a motor vehicle without the owner's consent.

The pair, Leo Durkin, 28, and Edwin R. Cooper, 22, were arrested by Mansfield police Wednesday in connection with the robbing of William Carr, 260½ North Main street.

Police said the robbery charge was unfounded, but in the course of the investigation discovered that the men allegedly were connected with the theft of a Crestline car.

The car was reported missing Tuesday at 6:30 p. m. and was recovered by Mansfield police at 4 a. m. the next day. The car was abandoned on North Diamond street.

Driver Takes a Nap; Truck Leaves Trail of Wreckage

GALION — Any mention of doughnuts brought smiles to local early-risers here today. The Dandee Bakery truck of Cardington which supplies eateries with doughnuts and other early morning foods failed to make its daily stops.

Police say the driver, Richard Kanable, 19, of Cardington dozed throughout a Harding Way west trip that resulted in a lamp post being cut off and a front porch damaged before the trucker was apprehended on charges of reckless and careless operation.

Kanable was released under $50 bond to appear for a 3 p.m. hearing Monday in mayor's court. Police believe sleet street conditions caused the truck to veer to the wrong side of the street at Oranfe street and by the time it reached Gill avenue trouble started.

A lamp post was cut off in front of the A. C. Talbott residence.

The U. E. Campbell residence porch halted the trip and awakened Kanable, at 5:15 a.m. police report.

See Wages Slated For Down Trend

GM Employes Due For Cut

WASHINGTON —(AP)—The economic winds stirred up a hint today that wages, like prices, may have reached a postwar peak. In some cases, they may have started a downward trend.

More than 300,000 auto and electrical workers of the General Motors corporation, stand to take a two or three-cent an hour pay cut on the basis of the government's declining cost-of-living index.

And officials of at least one major union, the CIO's Amalgamated Clothing workers, said they have decided against a fourth round of postwar pay boosts because of slackened demand for men's apparel.

"We're practical realists, you know," one clothing union official told a reporter. "We've decided against asking for any new wage increase now, even though our members feel the price pinch, too, because right now our industry is soft."

Officials of the union, holding a powwow here, said consumers have had to pay so much for food in the past year they had little left to buy clothing but now that food and other items are coming down:

"Maybe the consumer will have more money in his pocket to buy the clothes we make."

The clothing workers are the fourth largest CIO union; only the Steelworkers, Auto Workers and Electric Workers' unions are larger.

Pay cuts for the auto and electrical workers employed by General Motors appear imminent because their wages are tied by agreement to the government living cost index.

The index took its third straight monthly decline yesterday to 171.4. This covered December prices and was one half of one per cent below November and 1.8 per cent below the August-September peak.

But prices still are high—29 per cent above OPA-controlled levels in 1946.

Every time the index moves 1.14 points General Motors workers lose or gain a cent in wages under their two-year contract agreement. Already they had received a three-cent increase on a rising index.

Now that the index is declining GM workers will get a two-cent hourly pay cut on March 1 on the basis of the present index level.

If the next monthly index is as low as 170.3, where it may go because of further food price declines and January clearance sales, GM workers will take a three-cent pay cut.

Labor experts saw declining prices are bound to have their effects on wage negotiations this spring. Some unions already are stressing demands for better vacation, retirement and other insurance plans rather than wages.

Navy Enlists 3

The Mansfield Navy recruiting station has announced the enlistment of three area men. Norman Fierbaugh, of Ashland, has enlisted for three years, and Paul David Whaley, Bucyrus, and Paul Glenn Gies, New Washington, have signed up for one year.

Sues City For $6,774

A $6,774 suit has been filed in Common Pleas court against the city of Mansfield for damage to goods in the basement of a store allegedly caused by a leaking sewer.

Joseph Freedman, proprietor of Joe's Surplus store, 305 North Mulberry street, filed the petition charging the city with negligence.

He said the city neglected to inspect a sewer line in front of his store, and as a result, the sewer clogged and leaked, flooding the basement of his store with sewage to a depth of three feet last June.

Freedman claims damage of $1,639 to goods stored in the basement. Other damage claimed includes time and labor involved inspecting and separating the merchandise, pumping out the basement, loss of storage space, and damage to the basement itself.

Photographer Lauds Woman, Husband Irked

CINCINNATI —(INS)— A Cincinnati husband didn't object today to his wife's being photogenic but protested the opinion given by a Middletown photographer.

Robert H. Clower jr., 32, Cincinnati, presented a letter from the photographer as evidence in his plea for a divorce. The letter was dated August 2, two weeks before his wife, Maxine ended their four-month marriage.

The Middletown photographer described the woman as "the most photogenic person I have ever met" and "your features are perfect."

He added:

"Your form is perfect too."

Salesman, 60, Dies In Crash

MILLERSBURG — Edwin K. Rudy, 60, former hardware merchant here and a salesman for a Cleveland advertising firm, was killed yesterday noon when his car plunged over an embankment and crashed into a stone wall near Shanesville in Holmes county. He was en route here from Cleveland.

Surviving are his widow, Elizabeth; a brother, Paul of Millersburg; and a sister, Mrs. Thomas Humbrichhause of Lakewood. Mr. Rudy was a member of the First Presbyterian church here and the Elks lodge in Wooster.

Rites will be held at 2 p. m. Monday in the Elliott funeral home here with Rev. Robert Morey, First Presbyterian pastor, officiating. Burial will be in the Mansfield cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home after noon on Sunday.

Order Issued In Rent Case

A permanent injunction was issued against a Mansfield woman today in connection with violation of the federal rent control law in United States District court in Cleveland.

Mrs. Julia Miller, 130½ Purdy street, was enjoined from further violating the rent control law and ordered to pay a former tenant $95 for a refund of overcharges. Court costs of $39 were levied against her.

The office of the area housing expediter collected $1,360 in overcharges for tenants during the period from Dec. 25 to Jan. 25, rent control officer George W. Blecker reported today.

Recovery of overcharges from landlords was effected for 25 tenants during the period.

Johnny Appleseed School Acts to Form Student Court

By Janet Neal and Janise Smith

The Appleseed student council took action recently to organize a student court. It was presented to the council by William Lantz, adviser to the monitors association, under the direction of G. W. Harmony, principal: Miss Margaret Wheeler, student council adviser, and Ensill McNabb, who drew up the plans and ideas for the court.

It has been felt by these advisers that a student court would permit student participation in the rules and regulations of the school, as well as give them a wholesome attitude toward the kind of school that Johnny Appleseed ought to be.

The monitors have done much toward the enforcement of rules concerning halls, cafeteria, and noon activities, however, a student court would help the students to take legislative action as well.

The student council is working on the plans, and it will be some time before it will be completely organized.

Girls' intramural basketball games played this week. Room 203 defeated Room 109 by the score of 17-6, and Room 103 defeated Room 206, 22-6, while Room 214 was defeated by the girls from 205 by the score of 13-12. In the competition for individual scoring honors, Nancy Ward of Room 103 is leading so far with 13 points while Joyce Cramer has 8.

Captains who have been chosen to head each homeroom are: Betty Karsminski, Pat Becker, Nancy Bowman, Phyllis Chalfant, Dolores White, and Joanne Davis from the eighth grade, and Sally Ritzenthaler, Dorothy Elsasser, JoAnn Brunn, Pat Sites, Sandra Theaker, and Janise Smith from the ninth grade.

All of the students are looking forward hopefully to next Wednesday, when report cards will be issued.

Plans are being made for an amateur show by the students with Carolyn McGinty from the student council as chairman.

The ninth graders have been busy for the past few weeks writing American Legion essays which were turned in this week.

The B'nai Brith is sponsoring another essay contest, which students of all three grades are eligible to enter. The title of this essay is "Brotherhood in Our Daily Lives."

The first floor is being painted this week, and several of the rooms are not in use.

A paid assembly, the "Vagabond Trio," will be presented in our auditorium next Thursday.

Rocket Transfusion Listed Today In Chicago Session

CHICAGO—(AP)—The Chicago Rockets, one of the All-America conference's worst wheelchair cases, are due to get a healthy player transfusion from the dissolved Brooklyn Dodgers and perhaps other clubs today.

AAC owners and representatives, who a week ago decided to forge ahead in 1949 with a seven-team membership, returned to Chicago for a special parley in the office of Benjamin Lindheimer.

Lindheimer, owner of the Los Angeles Dons and the most powerful figure in the AAC, already has disclosed that the ill-fated Rockets have $300,000 in the pokey for operation in 1949. The fourth set of new owners for the Chicago entry may be identified after today's session, but more likely will remain anonymous until a stronger Rocket foundation is built.

There is strong speculation that Coach Ed McKeever may not be around next year in his present capacity. The nomadic McKeever signed a three-year contract for a reported $65,000 last season after a collegiate coaching career at San Francisco, Cornell and Notre Dame. His Rockets won only one game in 14. McKeever's contract, with two years to go, reportedly reverts from the Rockets to the league after Feb. 1.

The number and identity of players to be sent to the Rockets from the Brooklyn Dodger-New York Yankee merger is the principal item of today's business.

Gavilan Wins In Upset Over Ike Williams

NEW YORK—(U.P.)—Kid Gavilan, Cuba's whirlwind welterweight who won an upset non-title decision over lightweight champion Ike Williams last night, will challenge officially next week for a shot at Ray Robinson's welterweight crown.

That's what co-managers Angel Lopez and Fernando Bolido announced today as they spurned offers for a third Madison Square Garden match with Williams, who had outpointed Gavilan in their first bout last February.

POST FORFEITS

One challenge will be filed with the New York boxing commission and another with the National Boxing association, the co-pilots said. And a forfeit check for $2,000 will be posted with each organization.

The Cuban Negro won a split decision over brown-skinned Williams of Trenton, N. J., last night at the garden in an excellent 10-round bout before 15,125 fans.

Williams, unbeaten in 20 straight bouts and proclaimed "fighter of the year" for 1948, had gone into the ring a 12-5 betting favorite.

Director Harry Markson of the 20th Century club was so pleased with the brawl and with the gate of $57,195 that he immediately suggested a "rubber match" of 15 rounds at the garden on March 11 or 18.

New London 5 Wins In Loop

GREENWICH — New London piled on the coal in the second half to defeat Greenwich high school in a Huron county basketball tilt here last night, 51 to 24.

The Wildcats led only 18-15 at the half. It was the third league win in five games for New London. Dave White, Wildcat guard, was out with the flu.

New London won the prelim game, 44 to 38.

Cleveland Barons Entertain Lions

(By International News Service)

Cleveland's Barons resume action tonight in an effort to retain their grasp on the top spot in the Western division of the American Hockey league.

The Barons, who return home, after an extensive road trip, take on the Washington Lions at the arena, while the St. Louis Flyers, who are tied with Cleveland for the league lead, meet Pittsburgh, fourth placers in the Western division.

Derricotte Signs With Cleveland

CLEVELAND — (AP) — The Cleveland Browns announced today the signing of Gene Derricotte, brilliant halfback of Michigan's undefeated Western conference champions of 1947 and 1948.

Derricotte, a native of Defiance, O., is considered one of the nation's top defensive backs as well as a fast and shifty ball carrier. He also was a straight-A student at Michigan.

NEW YORK —(U.P.)— The New York Giants, whose park is located in the most heavily populated Negro district in the nation, today signed two colored players, Outfielder Monte Irvin and Pitcher For Smith, for their Jersey City Farm Club.

By becoming the fourth major league team to break down the color line, the Giants obtained two players who might in the future offset the box-office draw of Jackie Robinson and the Brooklyn Dodgers, their inter-borough rivals. The Cleveland Indians and St. Louis Browns are the other teams who previously signed Negro athletes.

Irvin and Smith will report to Jersey City's spring training camp at Sanford, Fla., March 10. A Giant official said that the newcomers, who were stars in the Negro National League last season, might conceivably be brought up to the Giants during the 1949 campaign.

PITCHING IN CUBA

Smith, a 26-year-old right-hander, won 10 games and lost five for the Kansas City Monarchs last season. He currently is pitching for the Almendares in the Cuban winter league.

Irvin, a right handed batter and thrower, played with the Newark Eagles in the Negro League. Now playing with San Turci in the Puerto Rican Winter Loop, 28-year-old Irvin is leading the league in homers with seven and in doubles with 13.

Elsewhere on the Major League contract-signing front, three Detroit Tigers—headed by Outfielder Hoot Evers—and Richie Ashburn, the Philadelphia Phillies' brilliant rookie flychaser, joined the holdout ranks.

General Manager Bill Evans of Detroit announced that Evers, first baseman George Vico and rookie pitcher Lou Kretlow had returned their contracts unsigned despite "substantial" pay raises. Evers led the Tigers in batting in 1948 with a mark of .314 and drove in 101 runs.

The only Tiger signed yesterday was rookie Shortstop Harold Daugherty, who played for Williamsport in the Eastern League last year.

ASKS FOR MORE

Ashburn, who batted .330 for the Phils last season before being sidelined by a broken wrist, turned down a contract for $7,500—an increase, of $2,500 over 1948. He said he wanted $12,000. Ashburn will confer further today with President Bob Carpenter.

The St. Louis Cardinals announced that Harry (The Cat) Brecheen, their ace left-hander, and Enos Slaughter, their hard-hitting outfielder, had signed, bringing under contract their "Big Three." Outfielder Stan Musial came to terms two months ago.

Outfielder Cliff Mapes and two rookies—First Baseman Joe Collins and Pitcher Wally Hood—reached salary agreements with the New York Yankees, raising the club's total of satisfied players to 15.

Sam Chapman, veteran Philadelphia Athletics outfielder, inked his 1949 pact to become the 24th member of the A's under contract, and Catcher Les Moss signed with the St. Louis Browns.

The Pittsburgh Pirates announced the outright release of Catcher Leroy Jarvis to San Francisco of the Pacific Coast League in part payment for Pitcher Bill Werle.

Crack At Speed

NEW YORK — (UP) — Uncle Sam's best take another crack at Swede speed tonight in the Millrose games, seeking to end Scandinavian domination of the top distance races this indoor track season.

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

TAMPA, Fla.—Tommy Gomez, 182, Tampa, knocked out Joe Dominic, 204, Springfield, Mass., 6. (Top regular bout on Joe Louis-Nino Valdez exhibition card.)

BOSTON—Al "Red" Priest, 156½, Cambridge, Mass., outpointed Irish Mickey Doyle, 160½, Cleveland, 10.

Jaunty Dick Metz Tops At Phoenix

PHOENIX, ARIZ., — (AP) — Jaunty Dick Metz throws all of his 23 years professional golf experience into play today to protect a thin lead in the $10,000 Phoenix Open Golf tournament.

Yesterday the beret bedecked veteran now playing out of Virginia Beach, Va., styled a three-under-par 68 for a total of 137.

Just one stroke behind came sweet-swinging Sammy Snead of White Sulphur Springs, W. Va.

Cleveland Brown Five Opens Sked Tonight

CLEVELAND — (AP) — The Cleveland Browns basketball team opens its season tonight by opposing the Lake Shore Coaches at Mentor high school. Otto Graham Mac Speedie, Dante Lavelli, Horace Gillom, Marion Motley, Edgar Jones, Lou Tymkus, Lou Groza and Cliff Lewis make up the Browns squad.

NOTICE
IN THE COMMON PLEAS COURT OF RICHLAND COUNTY, OHIO

Marian Leatrice W. Kilgore, R. D. No. 1, Shiloh, Ohio, Plaintiff, vs Harry J. Kilgore. Last known address, 15 Church Street, Willard, Ohio, defendant.

Harry J. Kilgore, whose last known place of address was 15 Church Street, Willard, Ohio, and whose present place of residence is unknown and cannot be ascertained, will take notice that on the 19th day of January, 1949, the plaintiff Marian Leatrice W. Kilgore filed her petition against him in the Common Pleas Court of Richland County, Ohio: the same being Cause No. 30967 in said Court, the prayer of said petition is for divorce, custody of minor children, alimony and to recover defendants interest in the following described real estate, to-wit:

Situated in the Township of New Haven, County of Huron and State of Ohio, and being known as Sub-Lots Numbers Twenty-nine (29), and Thirty (30), in Franklin E. Feefer's subdivision of part of Lot Number One (1) in Section Number Three (3) of said Township of New Haven, County and State aforesaid: said subdivision being known as Park View Allotment and being adjacent to the Village of Willard, Ohio.

Said defendant is required to answer said petition on or before the 28th day of March, 1949, or judgment will be taken against him.

Marian Leatrice W. Kilgore, Plaintiff.
By C. H. HUSTON, Attorney for Plaintiff.

THAT lost purse isn't really lost, Mrs. J. M. D. — you were so excited about all the wonderful cleaning of your upholstery and rugs you were going to do with the Mystic Foam you purchased that you left the purse on my counter. Just come to the Mystic Foam display in O'Neil's Housewares Dept. And honest, I didn't even take the teeniest peek into the purse.

HERE is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3 The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner of the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

Perrysville Wins Ashland County Cage Loop Crown

POLK — Perrysville won the Ashland county league championship here last night as it downed Polk 46-36. The victory gave Coach Leslie Woodburn's Admirals a record of seven wins and no losses in league play while Savannah finished second with a record of 6-1. It was Perrysville's 14th win in 18 starts this season.

The champions were paced by their high scoring forward Snuffy Smith. Smith played less than half the ball game because of personal fouls but stayed long enough to score 15 points. Herb Brown scored 12 for the winners while Crossen of Polk was high for the game with 17.

In the reserve contest Perrysville was the winner 39-20

Star Guard Nets 29 In Fine Battle

By CHARLEY STINE

Sparked by sophomore Ed Chelski, the Madison Rams snapped out of their doldrums here last night to beat a fine big Columbus Linden McKinley team 62-60

The Rams played better basketball than even their most ardent fans believed them capable as they outfought the favored McKinley team from the opening whistle.

Chelski, meanwhile put on probably the most amazing shooting exhibition ever seen in the city as he connected on 14 of 18 tries from the field. Only one of the shots was a lay-up and most of them were from far back on the floor or from in the corners.

BEST IN MANSFIELD

His 29 points was the most made in any game in Mansfield this year and set a new all-time record for Madison high. Both Chelski and Ray "Dutch" Bader, who ripped in 17 points, played the best game in their careers.

Larry Secrist was his usual fine self in setting up the plays while Jim Brightbill and Joe Distl contributed their share. This quintet went all the way as Coach Blaine Dowler did not substitute.

Despite the fine play, the large size of the Linden team almost kept victory from the door. The complexion of the game changed entirely three times during the evening.

LOOKS LIKE ROUT

It started out as a nip-and-tuck battle with Madison leading 6-5 after four minutes of play. Then it suddenly looked like a rout as the Rams started hitting on all cylinders. Madison held a 15 point lead in the second quarter when things began to go the other way.

Johnny Hayes, Linden forward, scored seven straight points in the second quarter as his team pulled within 30-24 at the half.

The second half started the same as the first had ended and it looked as if Madison's sterling play had been just a flash in the pan. Linden tied the score at 38-38 on a long set shot by Paul Ziegschwert and then seemed to be pulling away without trouble.

TRAIL BY SEVEN

Linden led by seven points early in the fourth quarter when Madison took the bit in its teeth. Distl and Bader connected with pivot shots and Chelski made one of his patented longs. Distl and Bader connected with pivots and Brightbill missed from the corner but scored his own rebound to put Madison ahead 60-58.

In the last minute the Panthers' Hayes was fouled by Bader and Hayes made them both good to tie the score. With 15 seconds left, Chelski dribbled the length of the court and cut loose from the corner for the winning bucket. It was his 13th point in the fourth quarter.

Linden won a fine reserve game by a 47-35 score. Madison's seconds scored their largest amount of points of the season but were beaten by a sharp-shooting sophomore outfit.

Ontario Hoopsters Win 11th In League

PLYMOUTH—Desmond Donnenwirth's 23 points went for naught here last night as Ontario outlasted a late Plymouth rally for a 71-62 basketball victory. It was the 11th straight win for Richland county league leaders.

Ontario led 62-41 going into the fourth period when the Pilgrims started to roll.

The Warriors' Howard Sunnucks held onto his county scoring lead with 14 points, although sitting out part of the game with a bad cold.

Ontario also took the reserve tussle, 33-29.

Norwalk Goes Into Tie for NOL Top Spot

NORWALK—Norwalk moved into a tie with Bucyrus for first place in the Northern Ohio league basketball standings by edging Shelby high school here last night, 59 to 58.

Bob Robertson tossed in the winning basket in the final five seconds of the game as Norwalk had to overcome a sizeable Shelby lead. The Whippets had taken the lead early in the contest.

It was the fourth win in five league games for Norwalk. Bucyrus rapped Bellevue, 54 to 40, to knock the latter club out of the top spot.

Stan Cronenwett and Dick Utz, the tall lads on the Shelby aggregation, paced the scoring with 22 and 18 points respectively. Bill McKinley led the Truckers with 17.

Shelby fell all the way from a tie for second to fifth place in the league as Crestline defeated Willard, 47 to 33. The Whippets have won three and lost two in the loop. Crestline has copped three of four.

Bucyrus Blasts Bellevue Off Top Of NOL Standings

BUCYRUS — Bucyrus pushed itself to the front of Class A basketball in this section last night as it walloped a good Bellevue team, 54-40.

Bucyrus trailed at the end of the first quarter but took over in the second period to coast to its ninth victory in ten starts. The game was a Northern Ohio league contest and gives Bucyrus a 4-1 loop record.

Bellevue had been in first place with four wins and one loss but dropped to third place. Bucyrus is tied for the league lead.

Jack Temple led the Redmen with 14 points. Bucyrus also won the reserve game, 41-23.

Bellville Whips Butler, 58-42

BUTLER — Bellville made a greater percentage of its shots here last night to defeat the Butler Bulldogs in a Richland county league basketball game, 58 to 42.

The victory enabled the Blue Jays to remain in second place with nine wins and two defeats. Bellville took a 9-to-4 lead at the quarter and increased it to 24-13 at the half.

Neither team controlled the backboards but the long shooting ability of Bill Balliett and Bill Smith made the difference. They tossed in 34 points between them. Bill Allen of Butler was the leader, however, with 20.

Bellville won the reserve game, 34 to 13.

'Lex' Quintet Spurts In 4th

LEXINGTON— Lexington high school unveiled a potent fast-break in the fourth quarter to rap Lucas in a Richland county basketball league game here last night, 58 to 39.

The score was knotted at 32 points when the final period opened but the Minutemen sent home 11 to 19 shots to win going away. In that period, Lexington had 26 points to seven for Lucas. The game was nip-and-tuck during the first 24 minutes but Lucas never was able to forge ahead.

Lexington led at the half, 23 to 21. Paul Fisher, Lexington forward, led the scorers with 19 points. Lucas copped the reserve game, 27 to 26.

Galion 5 Nips Upper, 52-51; Moses Gets 30

GALION — In a sensational basketball game on the Junior High court here last night, the Galion high Tigers won by one point, 52 to 51, over the Upper Sandusky Rams.

The teams fought it out for the cellar position in the Northern Ohio League.

The visitors led all the way until the last half of the final period, when the Tigers gained a two-point lead. The score thereafter shimmied, and was tied at 47-all, and again at 49. Upper Sandusky was leading 51 to 49, until Bill Wisler dropped in the winning field goal for Galion in the last half-minute of play.

Moses, fast Ram forward, led both teams by dropping in nine field goals and 12 foul shots for 30 points. Galion's Ray Seif had 24 points on eleven field goals and two free throws.

In the preliminary, the Upper Sandusky Junior Varsity won an easy victory, 37 to 13.

Beat Columbus East For 18th Straight

By FRED THARP, News-Journal Sports Editor

Senior high's long home court winning streak is still intact today but by the slimmest of margins.

The Tygers survived another of those patented hair-raising finishes to edge a fine Columbus East basketball aggregation, 37 to 36, last night. A magnificent first quarter enabled Coach Vern Hoffman's club to pile up a big margin as it ran the home court streak to 18 consecutive triumphs.

Once again it was the stalling ability of the Tygers in the waning moments that enabled them to squeeze out the win. A foul shot by Ed Demyan with 1:10 to go provided the winning margin. After that the Bengals got two shots at the basket and East picked up one.

A. C. Jenkins was fouled on one of the shots but missed his first gratis try and Senior high took the leather out of bounds instead of trying the second in the final 10 seconds.

Last night's battle was the third straight home tussle in which the Tygers held on to win by three points or less. They slipped by Springfield, 37 to 36, and Akron North, 40 to 37.

CATCH UP IN FOURTH

East, one of the better teams in the Columbus city league, kept pecking away at a big Tyger lead but did not catch up until it put together an eight-point burst mid-way in the fourth quarter. A long connection by Little Ken Mizelle knotted the count at 32-32 and Luther Towers dropped in a pair of fouls to send East ahead for the first time.

Twenty seconds later slender Jimmy Anderson tied it all up with a one-hander. With less than three minutes remaining, Jenkins batted in a rebound after a fast break. The lead was short-lived, however. as Towers made a successful one-hander from midcourt.

Ken McCally, Mansfield, and Towers traded baskets to open the first period and that ended the East point making for eight minutes. The Tygers tossed an iron-clad defense at the Tigers which just couldn't be penetrated.

RUN UP BIG LEAD

Norb Shibinski rammed home a pivot shot and Anderson hit on two one-handers and the Tygers were off. McCally came through with a long push shot, Shibinski added a free throw and Paul Ferguson finished out the quarter with a long two-hander. Ferguson hit on a fast break to open the second stanza to give Mansfield its longest lead of the game, 15 to 2.

East switched to a pressing full-court defense for the last three quarters and gave Mansfield trouble. Senior high led at the half, 19 to 12, and at the three-quarter mark, 30 to 23. Once in the third chapter, East pared the lead to five points, 22 to 17.

But at that stage Anderson dropped in two and Ferguson one.

The Tyger defense was so tough at times that East was forced to shoot from far out on the court. The invaders made six of their 13 field goals from far out. Senior high connected on 15 of 52 shots and made seven of 16 from the foul line. The Tygers 10 hits in 16 charity tosses was a big factor.

Michigan Choice Over Buck Five

ANN ARBOR, MICH.—(UP)—Though overshadowed by the Minnesota-Illinois game-of-the-year at Champaign, Michigan and Ohio State nevertheless planned to stage one of their usual basketball rhubarbs here tonight, with the Buckeyes in the underdog role.

Michigan in the betting polls was rated a five point favorite, despite both teams' records adding up to an identical eight won and three lost. Ohio has won three of their five big nine tilts while Michigan's Wolverines have only managed one win of three.

Coach Tippy Dye of the Buckeyes said all ailments which have plagued his cagers since the start of the season now seem to be a thing of the past. Dick Schnittker, who's the sparkplug with an average of 21.1 points per game, has fully recovered from his recent throat ailment and center Bob Raidiger and guard Gene Brown, recent flu sufferers, also seemed to have snapped back to normal.

One of the night's features will be the duel between Schnittker, rated one of the top offensive stars in the nation, and Michigan's Pete Elliott, great defensive player

Michigan probably will start Bob Harrison at the other guard, Mack Suprunowicz and Bill Milulich at forwards, and Bill Roberts at center. Ohio will counter with the old reliables: Schnittker and Bob Donham at forwards, Raidiger at center, and Bob Burkhoder and Brown at guards.

★

CHAMPAIGN, ILL.—(AP)—An overflow crowd of 7,000 will be on hand in Huff Gymnasium tonight as the only two undefeated big nine basketball teams, Illinois and Minnesota, collide in the keygame of the conference title campaign.

The scalping price for tickets was reported to be $30 per pair.

Minnesota's ball-control brand of game has paid off for 13 consecutive victories this season, including five conference games.

Tonight's game is the only meeting of the season between the Gophers and Illinois.

In another big nine encounter tonight Purdue (2-3) faces Northwestern (1-2) at Chicago Stadium. De Paul meets Oklahoma Aggies in the other half of the stadium doubleheader.

R. A. Tracy Made Life Deacon of Congregational Church

Recognized For 70 Years Of Service

First Member to Receive Honor

Rufus A. Tracy, 446 Park avenue west, for 70 years a member of the First Congregational church, has been made a life-deacon of the church. Tracy was honored at the 113th annual congregational meeting Thursday night.

It is the first time in the history of the church, according to the pastor, Rev. Matthew G. Madden, that a member has received such an honor. Tracy joined the church by confession on Jan. 5, 1879.

A life resident of Mansfield, Tracy is president of the Tracy and Massa insurance and bonds company.

Other officers chosen at the meeting include: H. E. Edwards, elected moderator to succeed Henry E. Sanford; Mrs. Russell Cline, re-elected clerk for three years, and Russell Cline, re-elected treasurer for three years.

NAMED CLERK

Fred A. Weaver was elected clerk of the board of trustees for one year; Willis F. Carto and Dwight E. Maxwell were elected senior deacons for four years and Clarence Preble was chosen to fill the unexpired term for one year as senior deacon.

Junior deacons include: Joseph Roby, James Rice, Raymond F. Acree and Robert Dirlam; Deaconesses were Mrs. P. B. Dietrichson and Mrs. Robert B. Black for four-year terms. Two were chosen to the board of trustees for the three-year terms. They were Ralph H. Emerson and Attorney J. H. Gongwer.

William A. Bowers was elected as trustee for the endowment fund for a period of three years and the following were chosen for three year terms to the board of religious education: Mrs. Warren Rupp, Mrs. Kenneth Cadigan and Mrs. George Kirtley.

Mrs. C. H. Bell becomes a member of the music committee for a three-year term.

Election of officers and annual reports followed a dinner in the church parlors.

The congregation of St. Mark's Lutheran church also elected officers this week.

Anthony Musille, L. A. Christman, Arthur Schmidt and Arthur Lantz are the new councilmen to serve for three years.

Sunday school officers include: L. A. Christman, superintendent; W. Earl Fenton, assistant superintendent; Miss Betty Erickson, secretary; Miss Ruth Wagner and Miss Shirley Reader, associate secretaries; Earl Brandenberg, treasurer; Billy Kozma, librarian; Lowell Schmidt and Kenneth Kelly, assistant librarians.

Raymond Dent, Mrs. Byron Chatlain and Mrs. Paul Sherrer are the directors of the Sunday school.

Jesus Was Tempted --- Just as We Are ILLUSTRATED SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

By Alfred J. Buescher

Scripture—Luke 4:14-15.

After His baptism, Jesus, being full of the Holy Spirit, left the Jordan and "was led by the Spirit into the wilderness," where He stayed for 40 days, fasting, and Satan came to Him.

After many days in the wilderness Jesus grew hungry; then Satan tempted Him by saying that Jesus could turn the stones into bread to satisfy His hunger, but Jesus refused to do so.

Satan took Jesus into a high mountain and promised Him the whole world if He would but worship him. Jesus bade him to be gone, as God said He only should be worshipped.

Taking the Lord to the pinnacle of the temple, Satan told Jesus to throw Himself off and God's angels would save Him, but again Jesus refused.

MEMORY VERSE—Hebrews 4:14-15.

20 Churches Map Series

Draw Resolutions For Services

Twenty Mansfield churches, participating in the plans for a second annual city-wide evangelistic movement patterned after the program held last spring, have announced a set of resolutions to govern this year's series of meetings.

Rev. Charles L. Shook, pastor of the First United Presbyterian church has been named chairman of group. The resolutions were drawn up after a study of last year's services and they have been designed to correct some of the errors of the first revival, Rev. Shook said.

They deal with eight particular phases of the evangelistic campaign, including resolutions on soberness, gentleness, esteem, love, teamwork, authority, personal work and ushers.

In drawing up the resolutions, the group agreed to refrain from "noisy, offensive and sensational methods;" to give a "straight-forward presentation of the Word of God without ridiculing local pastors or churches" and to remove from the personnel "anyone whose continued conduct is not in harmony with the adopted code of ethics.

Participating are: Central Methodist, Pilgrim church, Christian and Missionary Alliance; Free Methodist, Open Bible, First United Presbyterian, Mansfield Church of the Brethren, Evangelical, Lexington, R. D. 1, Mt. Calvary Baptist, Mansfield Gospel Center, Ontario Community, Pleasant Valley Baptist, Glad Tidings Tabernacle, First United Presbyterian, Salvation Army, Volunteers of America, Church of God, 265 West Third street, Caesarea Christian, and Rev. David C. Mann, 653 Lenox avenue.

HEART ATTACK FATAL

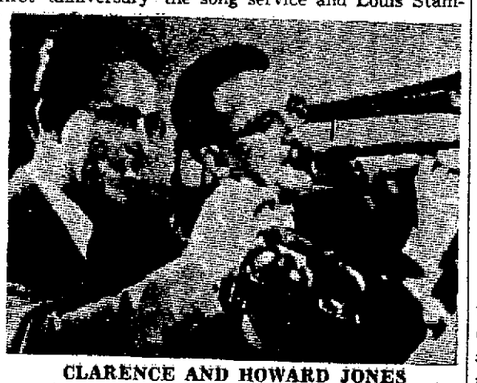
COLUMBUS — (AP) — John E. McCrehen, Columbus realtor, died yesterday of a heart attack.

Evangelist to Talk Tonight At Youth for Christ Rally

Dr. R. J. Wells, evangelist at the city-wide revival meetings here last spring, will be the speaker tonight at the first anniversary meeting of the Youth for Christ rally.

Dr. Wells will speak in the John Simpson auditorium at 7:30 p. m.

Music for the program will be furnished by Clarence and Howard Jones, trombone and trumpet players, who have appeared regularly on the radio station "Voice of the Andes" South America.



CLARENCE AND HOWARD JONES

Also speaking on the program tonight will be several Mansfield residents who were converted during the evangelistic services last spring.

Rev. Earl Lee, pastor of the Open Bible church, will have charge of the ushers for tonight's meeting. James Hunter will lead the song service and Louis Stambaugh will accompany the music.

Following his talk here tonight, Dr. Wells will go to Cleveland where he will speak at a union meeting of 100 churches.

Brothers to Present Series Of Programs At City Church

Clarence and Howard Jones, who broadcast over HCJB, the "Voice of the Andes" in Ecuador, South America, will come to the Grace Gospel church for a three-day program, starting tomorrow night.

They will present a combined musical and message program, based on those presented over the South American station. Clarence Jones is the trombone player and his brother plays the trumpet. In addition to their music, they will speak of the expansion program of the "Voice of the Andes."

Clarence Jones will talk at both Sunday services and Monday and Tuesday nights. His brother, Howard, will assist in the program. For his Sunday night talk, Clarence Jones has chosen the subject, "Fifty Thousand Watts of Miracle."

In addition to being a radio artist, Clarence Jones is author of the book, "Radio—the New Missionary." The station HCJB, is sponsored by the World Radio Missionary Fellowship, Inc., of New York City.

Young People Plan Conference

Tomorrow at 7 p. m. the young people of the Grace Episcopal church will meet in the Undercroft to complete plans for the Mansfield Regional Youth Conference on Sunday, Feb. 6.

Fifty young people are expected to attend this conference in the Mansfield church. They will be here from Shelby, Galion, Coschocton and Marion, to join in dinner, a fellowship hour and evening of worship in the church.

Hear Talk On China

Luther Leagues To Hold Services

Four Luther Leagues of the city will have special services tomorrow night.

At the St. Paul Lutheran church, League members will hear Miss Elsie Hager talk on "China" at 7 p. m. in the church parlors. A discussion of the different Lutheran mission fields will follow Miss Hager's talk.

Rev. Matthew G. Madden, pastor of the First Congregational church, will show slides and give a talk on "Boy Marries Girl" at the Luther League meeting in the St. Matthew's Lutheran church. The League will meet at 6 p. m. in the parish rooms.

Mrs. Philip Wolfe will be the speaker at the meeting at 7 p. m. of the Luther League of the St. Luke's Lutheran church.

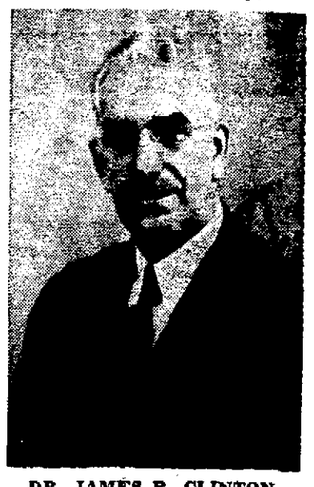
A combined meeting of all three Luther Leagues of the First Lutheran church will be held at 6:30 p. m. A camp film will be shown.

Rev. Clinton to Interpret Novel of Scotch Writer

An impersonation of the Scottish novelist, Ian MacLaren, and his novel, "Beside the Bonnie Briar Bush," will be presented at the St. John's Evangelical and Reformed church next Friday at 7:30 p. m., Rev. John C. Melchert, pastor, announced today.

Dr. Clinton will take the roles of all seven of Ian MacLaren's characters in the book. They will include John, a bereaved son who became a preacher; his mother, his auntie; Donald Menzies, a serious Scotchman; Lachlan Campbell, a genius in prayer; "Margaret Howe, whose son trained for the ministry was called for the "higher service" and Burnbrae, a Scot of rough but devout and intense type.

Dr. Clinton's impersonation will be interspersed with such hythns, as "The Sands of Time," "My Task," "Friend Unseen" and "Sunset and Evening Star."



DR. JAMES R. CLINTON

Ian MacLaren, who in real life was the Rev. John Watson, was a novelist of earlier years whose Scotch stories were favorites around many a fireside. In his dramatic readings here, Dr. Clinton portrays all the warm, spiritual theme which ran through most of MacLaren's books, according to reviews.

★

The presiding elder of the Evangelical Congregational church will speak here Sunday morning at the Holy Communion service of the Bethel church of that denomination. He is Rev. N. J. Broadway of Akron.
